Boalsburg Academy Re-Union.

Held In That Historic Old Village Last Thursday.

THE ATTENDANCE WAS LARGE

The Day One of Pleasure—Old Memories Recalled—A Full List of Those Attending—Visitors Royally Treated by the Citizens of the Town.

LETTERS FROM THE ABSENT ONES

Written Exclusively for The Bellefonte Republican.

One of the most delightful reunions ever held in Penns Valley took place at Boalsburg on Thursday, Sept. 9, 1897. It was the occasion of the first reunion of the Professors and Students of the Boalsburg Academy. The meeting was held in McFarlane's woods, about one mile east of the town.

The exercises began promptly at 10:00 o'clock a. m. An excellent choir, under the leadership of Prof. Philip Meyers, had charge of the singing. The first song was entitled "The Greeting Glee." Prayer was offered by Prof. D. M. Wolf, who had charge of this Academy back in the sixties. The Boalsburg band, in charge of Prof. John Weiland, discoursed several fine selections. Mr Frank McFarlane, president of the Alumni association, in fitting words, extended to all a hearty welcome. He was followed by Prof. G. W. Leisher, who also extended greetings to the former professors, students and visitors, wishing them a happy time, and in a short address stating the object of the gathering. Prof. D. M. Wolf, in response to the words of welcome, spoke of the pleasure it afforded him to meet with the former students and friends of the institution, of the many who have laid the foundation of an early academical education, of those who have gone forth from its halls and were now filling positions of usefulness in the different callings in life. The next speaker was Rev. G. W. Fortney, of Turbotsville, Pa. He made an excellent address; it was spicy in reminiscences and brought back many memories of the past. The next speaker was our fellow townsman, Clement Dale, Esq. He made an excellent address. His speech abounded in wit and humor. He convulsed the audience with roars of laughter by recounting several anecdotes which occurred while at the academy. Among other things, he said when he arrived on the ground and asked what the program was to be, he was informed by Professor Leisher that it was to be an experience meeting and the addresses were to be short. This explanation, he said, reminded him very much of a good Methodist brother who attended an experience meeting not very far from here, and when it came his turn to speak he took the gloomy side of life by saying that the people are all dishonest. "When I was in the mercantile business and sold them goods they cheated me out of my book accounts; when I went out west they cheated me out of my mules; when I came back to Centre county and tried to collect in my book accounts they pleaded the statute of limitations, and over there sits Brother Jones, when I sued him he pleaded the statute of limitations, cheated me and made me pay the costs." At this moment the pious old minister raised his head and said, "Make it short, Brother Smith; make it short, make it short." But Brother Smith, not to be outdone, continued, "and now, brethren and sisters, I am laying up treasures in Heaven, where the Bellefonte lawyers can't get hold of them." Mr. Dale also told of Dr. Jacobs playing the violin during the noon recess while a dozen or more students danced the Virginia reel, when Prof. Leisher unexpectedly rushed into the school room and exclaimed, "This badness must be stopped." The Professor, however, denied that he had used that kind of grammar. His speech was full of anecdotes and reminiscences of olden times.

He was followed by Mr. Joshua T. Potter, of Centre Hall, who read a very pretty and interesting address. The testimony he gave was to the effect that the recollection of the days spent at the Boalsburg academy were among the most pleasant memories of his life.

The choir sang a selection entitled "How Beautiful."

At this moment Prof. Leisher stepped to the front of the platform and said, as he did of yore, "The roll will now be called," and the long roll was called, beginning with the professors, and after that the list of students, beginning with the year 1836 and ending in 1882. The first professors, who organized the Boalsburg academy, were Rev. Dr. McKinney and Rev. Frederick Betts, and their assistants were Professor William Waring and Prof. Williamson. This covered the period of instructors from 1836 to 1852. During this period a few professors taught short terms, whose names seem not to be recorded. From 1852 to 1857 Rev. James G. Austin was principal, and his assistants were Dr. C. P. W. Fisher and Miss Sallie J. Keller. From 1857 to 1858 Professor Theopholus Weaver had charge of the school. From 1858 to 1862 Professor James Patterson taught. It was during this period that the war broke out, and in the latter year Prof. Patterson and most of, if not all, the boys of the school able to shoulder the musket entered the service and became members of what was known as Co. G of the 148th Reg,t, P. V. I. From 1863 to 1865 Rev. Prof. D. M. Wolf and Professor C. K. Evans were principals. Their assistants were Dr. A. S. Gerhard, A. M., and Dr. Jeremiah Hoy. Miss Anna M. Cooper taught the school from 1865 to 1866. Prof. Henry T. Sahm taught from 1866 to 1867. From 1867 to 1872 Prof. G. W. Leisher was principal. Joseph Peters taught from 1872 to 1873. He was followed from 1873 to 1874 by Rev. Dr. Baker. Prof. Daniel Fleisher taught from 1874 to 1876. Rev. Henry Keller had charge of the school from 1877 to 1878. Prof. Sylvester Ray from 1878 to 1879. Prof. G. W. Gerhart from 1880 to 1881. Prof. Philip Vonada from 1881 to 1882, with W. W. Hess as an assistant, after which Boalsburg academy was turned into a public school.

After the roll call of the professors was ended the roll of students was taken up. The oldest student, in point of attendance, was J. Q. Adams. He recounted his experience as a student in the earlier days of Dr. Kinney's tutorship. The building where the school was then kept has long since disappeared, and Mr. Adams is one of the survivors who came to tell the audience present what pleasant times were passed within its walls.

Caleb Kephart, not present.

Mrs. Sarah Potter, not present.

Mrs. Susan Hall, not present.

The next to recount his experience was George Armstrong Jacobs, generally known as Armstrong Jacobs. Venerable in appearance and with a constitution somewhat shattered by age, he arose and asked that his testimony and experience might be submitted in writing. He had prepared an excellent address, which was read by his son, Dr. W. A. Jacobs, a practicing physician at Centre Hall, Pa.

Mrs. Margaret Sheneberger Keller was present and submitted her address in writing, which will be found among correspondence and addresses printed hereafter.

Col. James T. Stuart, a student under Professor Austin, gave his experience of the days he attended school before the "wah." Mr. Stuart began and finished his academical education under Mr. Austin and at the breaking out of the late rebellion he was among the first men from Boalsburg to enter the service, becoming a member of Company G, 49th Reg't, P. V. I. He rose to the rank of colonel and was mustered out at the close of the war.

Colonel John Jack, of Harlem, Iowa, answered by a letter, which will appear among the correspondence.

Mr. Daniel Weiland made an excellent address. He at first apologized for not being able to speak loud enough to be heard by the entire audience, but when he got started he gave his hearers some useful information.

Mrs. Hannah Johnston Burchfield was present and answered to her name.

Mrs. Caroline Keller Rhone, of California, answered by letter.

Maria T. Goheen Milliken, of Warrensburg, Missouri, answered by letter.

Mrs. Mollie Rankin, of Montrose, Iowa, answered by letter.

Miss Sallie Keller, present.

Rev. Francis M. Baker, of Dauphin, Pa., answered by letter.

Prof. W. A. Krise was present and made an entertaining address.

Mr. John Conley, of Centre Hall, spoke of the days he attended school at Boalsburg.

Mr. Andrew Glenn, present.

Mrs. Angeline Musser Bottorff, present.

Miss Mary Baker, present.

Mr. George Koch entertained the audience by giving his first experience in attending school at the academy; how he wanted to study law but was persuaded that he was too conscientious for that. He then talked about medicine, then about theology, and finally returned to the plow; went west to grow up with the country. He said the country grew and he stood still; that he subsequently went into the army at the beginning of the war as a private; served for four years as a private in the ranks and "was never reduced." He then came back to Pennsylvania, where he expected to spend the remainder of his days.

Joseph L. Watson answered by letter.

Mrs. Sarah J. Whitehill Bloom answered by letter.

Miss Sallie Barr, present.

Mrs. Hannah Seltzer, present.

James Gilliland, present.

Mrs. Martha Johnson Bayard, not present, but when her name was called her son Bert responded in her behalf.

The meeting then adjourned for dinner.

Afternoon session began at 1:30. The choir sang a selection entitled "Joy and Gladness." Prayer by Rev. J. M. Rearick, of Centre Hall, Pa. Roll call continued.

This ended the roll of the living students

Immediately after the roll call the Phrenakoemian Literary Society held its first annual reunion. Enoch Sweeny was elected president and Mrs Sophia Hall secretary. Among other things we learned was, that the Society was organized in 1867, with a large membership, and continued for many years in a prosperous condition. The library consisted of about one thousand volumes. The Society had a paper called the "Phrenakosmian Star." A regular editor was elected at stated times and the members contributed articles, which were arranged in editorial style and read publicly by the editor. We saw a number of the papers and heard others read, and found many amusing incidents related therein.

The following letters were read from absent students:

Dr. Reuben Hunter was a student in Dr. McKinney,s school about the year of 1837; afterward taught school, Then studied medicine at Jefferson medical college. Practiced in Boalsburg for a number of years; removed to Milesburg in '62 and shortly afterward entered the army as a surgeon in the 54th Penna. Vols. contracted malarial fever in the Shenandoah valley; was sent to the hospital in Annapolis, Md., where he died on the 19th of December, 1864, in the 50th year of his age. He was a man of strong character; a christian who wore his religion as an everyday garment. Public spirited, patriotic and much interested in education. Did all in his power to promote the success of Boalsburg Academy.

COL. DANIEL S. KELLER.

Daniel S. Keller, one of the first 13 students under Prof. J. G. Austin, was but eight years old when he entered the Boalsburg Academy. Endowed with natural ability he was carefully educated and was prepared to enter the Sophomore year in college, when the war broke out and he imbibed the patriotic spirit so prevalent, and went forth to aid in putting down an organized rebellion. He enlisted in Co. G, 148th regt., under command of Capt James J Pollum, August, 1862.

He was severely wounded at the battle of Chancellorsville, Pa., May 3rd, 1863. Although unfit for regular service he would not accept his discharge and remained until the close of the war with his comp.

At its close he accepted a position in Washington, D. C., first in the Census Department, then the Pension Bureau, and again being advanced until he became one of the chief clerks in the Bureau of Labor, where he remained until 1873. While in Washington he pursued his legal studies, graduating at the Columbia Law School with honors. In 1873 he removed to Bellefonte where he began the practice of law. He soon established a large and constantly increasing business. As a lawyer he was a valued counselor. His judgment in all affairs was of the best and was implicitly trusted; and his attention to duty was faithful and unremitting until the duty was discharged. He was an ardent republican, but never made enemies in his strong partisanship. He never presented a petition for "license"; his influence being in the opposite direction. He was county chairman of the "Constitutional Amendment," and labored so zealously that the county gave a majority of 2,000 votes in its favor.

For nearly ten years he served as Adjutant General with the rank of Colonel of the Regt. of N. G. P. The wound he had received in the Army, weakened his naturally strong constitution, and rendered him very susceptible to heavy colds, One of them finally terminating in the disease Consumption, that caused his death, all was done that could be done to prolong his life.

After spending several winters in the "Sunny South," in vain he returned home to die, in the prime of life.

"He fought a good fight and kept the faith,"

DR. C. P. W. FISHER.

Dr. Col. P. W. Fisher Son of Rev, P. S. Fisher was born in Dauphin Co, May 20 1832. The following month his Father removed to Centre Co. Dr. Fisher receiving a good classical education at the Boalsburg Academy, where he afterwards for a short time became assistant. He taught school in Potter Twp, for a term or two and then entered the University of Penn. where he was graduated with honors in the spring of 1857. He located in Boalsburg, and soon gained a large practice on the 12th of Sept 1862 he entered service of the U.S. Army, as assistant surgeon of the 148. Reg. P. P. and remained with his regiment until June 12th 1863. When he was honorably discharged on account of disabilities, He then returned to Boalsburg, and continued his profession up to the time of his decease. He was married on the 3rd of April 1866 to Miss Emma A. Fisher of Boalsburg. In the Campaign of 1884 he received the nomination for associate Judge for Centre Co. on the Republicen ticket, but was defeated by only a small majority, notwithstanding the County was largely democratic.

As a medical practioner he was, not only successful in his day, but he also sincerely sympathized with his patients in their sufferings and was most tenderly concerned for their comfort

He was a good citizen and devoted christian, a man who loved his fellow man and was loved by them.

LANCASTER, PA., Sept. 2nd, 1897.

Col. J. T. Stewart, et al., committee, Boalsburg, Pa.

DEAR SIRS:—Your invitation to attend a reunion of the former students of the Boalsburg Academy to be held at Boalsburg September 9th, 1897, has been received. It is with feelings of regret that I cannot be present on that occasion, as my professional engagements prevent me from so doing. Boalsburg Academy is a bright spot in the history of Centre county. It has turned out as many bright, strong and good men, as any other educational institution of like character in the state. When I recall the names of Geo Boal, John Jack, Samuel Wilson, General Brisbin, Gen. B. F. Fisher, Col, James T. Stewart, D. S. Keller and many others, I feel proud of old Boalsburg Academy. I have been practising law at Lancaster City for the last twenty years, and have met with reasonable success. It has taken hard work, but nothing is gained in this world without a struggle, and the man who is industrious, honest and upright is bound to succeed. I ask to be remembered to all present, and to all the good people of Boalsburg and vicinity

Yours truly,
T. B. HOLAHAN.

BRADFORD, PA., August 31, 1897.

J. T. Stuart, Esq., Boalsburg, Pa.

MY DEAR SIR:—Some days ago I received an invitation to attend a reunion of the former students of the Boalsburg Academy. I have delayed replying hoping to arrange my business so as to permit my being present, but find this is impossible. The time fixed for the meeting is in the midst of a week of court, at which I have a number of engagements, rendering it impossible for me to be absent.

I trust you will convey to those who are in attendance, my regret that such is the case, as well as my expressions of kindly feeling and good will.

To attempt in the short limits of a letter to give you anything in the way of personal experience that would be of interest, is out of the question. Perhaps it is sufficient to say that my life has been that of the average hard working country lawyer, fairly successful, and with no special occasion to complain of life or it useage. I am one of that numerous class having neither achieved greatness, nor has greatness been thrust upon me, but perhaps what is better, have been busy contented and no especial fault to find with anyone.

Trusting your reunion may be successful in every way, I beg to remain

Yours very truly,
GEO. A. BERRY.

MONTROSE, Lee Co., Iowa., Aug 30, 1897

Dear Friends and Fellow Students:

I drop you a few lines to acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to the reunion of former students of Boalsburg Academy. I regret it very much that I cannot be one of your number on this joyous occasion, but you have my very best wishes for the success of this reunion. I trust many of the former students are with you to-day to take part in these interesting exercises, Prof. Austin was principal when I attended the Academy. I then resided at Oak Hall. John Irvin, Belle Irvin, Watts, Will, Anna Berry and myself came from Oak Hall and the end of the mountain. Watts Berry drove a one horse wagon in which we all claimed a seat. I often think of those happy school days and wonder what has become of all my companions. I recall the names of some of the students that attended the Academy when I did. I will only give a few, perhaps some of them are with you to-day: Frank and Lizzie Fisher, George and John Boal, Lizzie, Anna and George Jack, Agnes, Mary and Sam Wilson, and many others too numerous to mention.

I am married living on a fruit farm. Our home is situated on the banks of the Mississippi river, affording us a fine view of all passing steamboats. At this season there are a number of excursions on the river with flags flying and bands playing. I should like very much if you would send me letter or paper with account of the reunion. With my best wishes I remain Yours kindly,
MRS. C. H. CURTIS, SR.
Formally Mollie Rankin.

HARRISON CITY, Sept. 6, 1897.

Dear Brother Leisher:

I acknowledge with thanks an invitation to be present at the reunion of Boalsburg Academy. Certain official duties at that time will prevent my being with you.

What a real pleasure it would afford me to again mingle with student friends and classmates of those days that I will always hold in glad remembrance. And how glad to, I would be to meet you my esteemed and honored Professor. While I tender my regrets that I cannot be with you on this festive occasion, I also send greetings, and trust you may all have a most happy and joyous reunion.

With many kind wishes for the success of the occasion and the personal welfare of you and yours, I am, Fraternally yours,
J. M. EVANS.

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 16, 1897.

G. W. Leisher, Esq.:

Your special invitation to attend a reunion of the former students of the Boalsburg Academy to be held at Boalsburg, Sept. 9, 1897, is hereby acknowledged with thanks. I never had the privilege or pleasure of being a student of the Boalsburg Academy but I did have the honor of serving as principal, the summer session of 1863. I carry with me in the "evergreen meadows of memory" many pleasant recollections of Boalsburg and its excellent and worthy citizens, many of whom have departed hence by death. It would be a real pleasure for me to be present at the coming reunion and I will make an effort to come. In any event may you all have a royal good time. Faithfully yours,
L. KRYDER EVANS.

TYRONE, Pa., Sept. 7, 1897.

Rev. G. W. Leisher, Boalsburg, Pa.

DEAR SIR:—I received some time ago through W. A. Jacobs of Centre Hall an invitation to participate in a reunion of former students of Boalsburg Academy, and discover that I have delayed acknowledgement until too late to reach him perhaps before the 9th.

As I attended the school for only a short time personal reminiscences from those who were better known will be more acceptable, I should like very much to greet you all and if possible will be over. While I have been moderately successful, as the world goes, I have not parted with honor in order to accumulate riches. Have found that I have made some enemies, which may or may not be a discredit. Yours truly,
F. R. WARING.

BUCYRUS, Ohio, Sept. 4, 1897.

To the former students of Boalsburg Academy.

In consequence of a severe illness due to extreme thermic influences I have been compelled to defer an answer to your very kind invitation to be present at the reunion of former students of the academy.

Could I do justice upon such an important occasion the accrue of my inclination would be attained, but having been debarred for some time from engaging in social, literary or political entertainment, I am constrained to acquit myself by an apology and forego the pleasure to avail myself of the most admirable prerogative to give an account of my experience during the lengthy period approximating four decades, when I first came within the domain of the genial realms of my fellow students. It certainly would afford me a grand treat to accept the kind invitation and meet old friends and join them in the entertainment, but must ask your indulgence and will record myself

Your fellow student,
J. B. KREIDER, M. D.

HARLAN, Iowa, Sept. 8, 1897.

To G. W. Leisher, A. A. Dale, W. A. Jacobs, J. T. Stuart and D. W. Meyers, committee, Boalsburg, Pa.

GENTLEMEN:—Your very cordial invitation to attend a reunion of the former students of the Boalsburg academy was duly received.

Please accept my thanks for the invitation and please accept also from me very sincere regrets at my inability to be with you.

I know of nothing I believe that would give me more pleasure than to visit Boalsburg and again meet the old students of Boalsburg Academy and the old citizens of the old town. Sometime in the future I hope to give myself that pleasure, but just now "time, place and circumstances prevent."

Please extend for me to all the old students my warmest regards and best wishes for their present and future happiness and continued success in all their various avocations.

I am very respectfully yours, etc.,
JOHN T. JACK.

TYRONE, PA., Sept. 6, 1897.

Dear Mrs. Hall:

At this moment I cannot quite piece together my recollection of events so far back, and books that might contain notes and dates are not quite accessible where I am. My sister, Mrs. M. A. Lee, now of Erie, who lived with me then, is too far off to receive answer from, and send to you in time.

I came from England in April 1833, and taught a school in Philipsburg the next winter. In the winter of 1834-35 I taught at the Branch (Presbyterian) church, and a new frame school house having been built, I taught in the one opposite the Dale farm in 1837. Having been in England in 1836 I bought the piece of ground where I later had a nursery, in 1838, and it could not have been till the fall of that year that Dr. McKinney came to me while I was digging potatoes there and offered me the charge of his academy, which had been taught by himself and Mr. Betts for 2 or perhaps three years previous. I taught there one winter, having to go to my little place in the Spring. But whether this was the winter of '38 or '39 I am not quite certain and pupils who were there then are either dead or beyond my ken. Dr. McKinney was too busy in his extensive church parishes to allow of his teaching regularly himself and I think that he discontinued the school when I left. When Mr. Austin opened an academy it seems to me that there had been 3 or four years or perhaps more of vacation.

I regret that I have not endurance enough left to make the journey and meet some old acquaintances and revive faded memories of youthful years. Very Respectfully,
W. G. WARING.

MILESBURG, Sept. 5, 1897

To the Honorable committee of arrangements for the reunion of the students of the Boalsburg Academy.

MY DEAR SIRS:—Your special invitation at hand in due time. I am sorry I cannot be present with you on this occasion to participate in these pleasures that always emanate from the reunion of hearts and faces of bygone days spent along the highway of knowledge. What pleasureable emotions recur to us as we retrospect these happiest and most useful days of our life. The Boalsburg Academy has as much reason to feel proud of her sons and daughters sent out into the world as any other institution of her day and opportunity. I remember well of hearing the Rev. Sneck address the Boalsburg students under Prof. Austin, then holding an exhibition, and cautioned them against following the habits of aquatic animals; he said some students left home to attend school "and like a gosling fair, flew over the sea and returned a goose full grown." No doubt all of us here have returned to this reunion full grown. After leaving this academy I attended the Kishacoquillas Seminary and Pine Grove Academy several terms; several terms at Vermillion Institute, Ohio, and graduated at the University of Albany, N. Y. I taught school about 12 years, 2 high schools, a select school, and assisted in the Pine Grove Academy. I read law with Orvis & Alexander, was Dist. Attorney 3 years. I am still a practicing Attorney. I was married in 1869, have had 9 daughters and 4 sons, 2 set of twins—who of the students has done better? With grateful rememberance, I am ever your friend.
JOHN F. POTTER.

When I received the invitation to attend a re-union of the surviving students of Boalsburg Academy, which flourished upwards of forty years ago, I felt as though I must accept it without fail; because the location of the Academy was that in which I spent my earliest existence. The beauty of Boalsburg, in its quietness at the foot of Tussey Mountain, was the scene of perfection in our childhood days; it contained a few enterprises to enliven its solitude, among them were the old tannery operated by our good old friend Daniel Musser, Sr., the large carriage shop of Mr. Logue's, the hattery by the Hess boys, the gun shop by David Young, the tin shop by Wolf & Sons, the chair factory by Barr & Kurtz and last, but by no means least, the Boalsburg Academy, which was largely the outcome of the educational interests manifested by Samuel Wilson, Judge Boal, Esquire Jack, Henry Keller, David Stuart and my beloved father Rev. P. S. Fisher, the success which attended the prime movers of this enterprise, actuated many others towards a liberal support of the school. My father's ambition was to have his large family of children educated, a movement of some kind was necessary to that purpose, for in those days there were very few Normal Schools, Academies or Preparatory Schools as compared with the present day. I first attended the Academy during its second year of existence, Rev. James Austin was the principal and my dear brother Calvin, who has since retired from his earthly stewardship, was his assistant. Some of the younger people present to-day no doubt picture in their minds an ideal school house, with dormitories, lecture rooms, music halls, and recitation rooms; but do not feel disappointed when I inform you that the first building occupied by this famous institution of lore, was none other than the small building of Granny Dunlap's, after the first year the old public school building was secured, which no doubt to some of the older citizens is as memorable as "Das alta shulehous an der crick" which affords the subject of a poem in the Pennsylvania German by Rev. Henry Harbaugh; it was during the second year of the existence of the Academy that marks my first attendance. Prof. Austin boarded in our family at $2.25 per week, including washing. A number of the pupils also boarded with us at the rate of $1.50 per week. An old log house on an adjoining lot to our house, was purchased by dear father and converted into a study room for the students; many were the gay times we had in the old log house, a few of the boys who were usually leaders in our sporting moods were the Hutchinson boys, John, Boyd and Charley, Frank Smith, Samuel Wilson, David Wilson, John and George Boal and others. At the end of two years many of the boys were ready for higher schools and some of the girls went to teaching. When I was 17 years old my father's family left for Bucks county, Pa., and as there were no schools there at that time save public schools, I went to Mt. Washington Female College, Md., spent two years there, then entered the Female College at Harrisburg, from which I was graduated in the year of 1861, in a class of six. Mrs. P. Gray Meek was one of the six. I followed teaching from this time until the year 1868, when I married Dr. I. J. Wirebach of Sellersville, Bucks county. We moved to Defiance, O., stayed six years, then returned to Scottdale, Westmoreland county, Pa., stayed there two and one half years and then went to St. Petersburg, Clarion county, Pa., in the latter part of the centennial year, at which place we have lived ever since. I am the mother of three sons and three daughters; one of the daughters died when she was only six months old. We have four churches in our town, the largest of which is the Reformed church of which I am still a member. We have Sunday school and preaching every Sunday; I teach a class of boys in the Sunday school. I am a member of the missionary society in our church. I have also been an active member of the W. C. T. U. for a number of years. In addition to my affiliations, I am also a member of the L. O. T. M. In whatever sphere I happened to be cast, I always endeavored with God's merciful guidance, to make myself useful. My dear brother John who also went to the Academy the time I did, enlisted in the army during the late war and was killed in the second day's fight at the battle of the Wilderness. He was a true, brave, christian soldier; his body could not be recovered and his ashes repose on southern soil. There is a very singular incident connected with brother John's death; when he enlisted his affianced presented him with a pocket bible; on the fly leaf of this bible written her name, his own and that of father's with their addresses. This bible was picked up off the battle field by relic hunters soon after the battle. The party in whose possession the bible was died, after which one of the daughters married and moved to New York city. In looking over some family relics one day they came across this bible. Noting what was written in it they concluded that if the friends of the owner of this relic could be found it would be very highly prized if it were restored to them. Accordingly in the Spring of 1894 the party from New York city wrote to the postmaster at Sellersville, Bucks county, concerning the bible; how and where it had been obtained. The postmaster with the aid of the lady who presented the bible were able to identify it and the same was returned to the same house from whence it started thirty years before. Brother Frank on the following Decoration day presented this bible to John Henry Fisher Post No. 101, G. A. R., located at Hatboro, Montgomery county, Pa.

During the many years that have elapsed since the days when we were pupils at the Academy, this occasion I believe is the first attempt towards a reunion of its surviving members. While it affords all of us great pleasure to be able to meet each other again, it is at the same time a sad memorial that many of the pleasant and smiling faces are with us no more, but have gone to that eternal home from whence no traveller returns. We sincerely hope we may some day have the pleasure of all the members of Boalsburg Academy in reunion in that far off distant land after our earthly race is run.

MRS. MAGGIE FISHER WIREBACK.

Miss Margaret Shineberger, now Mrs. David Keller of Boalsburg, was a pupil of Rev. McKinney's about sixty one years ago. The school was first held in the house now occupied by Mrs. Fisher, and later on in a building where Mrs. Rebecca Sparr's residence now stands. Mr. McKinney was afterward succeeded by Rev. Betts, his brother-in-law, who was also a Presbyterian minister. Of this school Mrs. Keller bears in her memory many delightful recollections and with the poet she can truly say

"Oh where are now the school-mates who here studied long ago?
Some scattered o'er the world's wide waste
By fortune hither, thither chased.
Some in the church yard low.
My music has struck a tender vein, and asks a soothing flow,
O time what changes thou hast made
Since I around this school house played
Just sixty years ago."

Mrs. Keller has been permitted to celebrate her golden wedding, a privilege granted to but few in this world. This event occurred in the summer of '92 at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Owen Mothersbaugh, her bridesmaid and several of the former guests being present. To this family five children have been given; thirty grand-children and twelve great-grand-children. Mrs. Keller has lived to see all her children married and settled in homes of their own; and now at the age of 74 she is bright and active as most women are at forty. She does her own work, enjoys entertaining her friends, spends her leisure in reading and is a shining example, worthy to be imitated by a great many complaining young house keepers of to-day. May the remainder of her life be spent in peace until she is called to answer the roll call of the great school master beyond.

A TERRIBLE WRECK.

This One Occured on the Santa Fe Road Near Emporia.

MANY PEOPLE WERE KILLED

A Fast Mail Train and an Express Came Together With Fatal Results. Names of the Dead and Wounded.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN ON THE TRAIN

EMPORIA, Kan., September 8.—One of the worst wrecks in the history of the Santa Fe railroad occurred three miles east of here at 7:30 o'clock to-night. Twelve or fifteen persons were killed and as many more badly hurt. The fast mail train goes east and the Mexico and California express westbound collided headon. The Mexico and California express was pulled by two locomotives and when they struck the engine drawing the fast mail the boilers of three engines exploded and tore a hole in the ground so deep that the smoking car of the westbound train went in on top of the three engines and two mail cars and balanced there without turning over.

The passengers in the smoking car escaped through windows. The front end of this car was enveloped in a volume of stifling smoke and steam, rushing up from the wreck below, and the rear door was jammed tight in the wreck of the car behind. The wreck caught fire from the engines and the cars in the hole, and the smoking cars were quickly burned to ashes. In climbing out of the smoking car several men fell through the rafts into the wreck below, and it is impossible to tell whether they escaped or were burned to death.

The west bound train carried seven or eight coaches, and its passengers included many excursionists who had been to hear the Hon. William J. Bryan speak at the county fair at Burlingame. Mr. Bryan himself was on the train, but was riding in the rear Pullman. He states that nothing but a heavy jolt was experienced by the passengers in his coach.

Mr. Bryan was one of the most energetic men in the crowd of rescuers. He helped to carry out the dead and wounded and gave the greatest attention to their care. One poor fellow who was badly maimed called to Mr. Bryan and said: "I went to hear you to-day; I am dying now and want to shake your hand and say God bless you. If you can, Mr. Bryan, get me a drink of water."

Mr. Bryan went into the first mail car, one end of which was burning and came out with a drink of water which he gave to the suffering passenger. He brought out cushions for others of the injured and was everywhere present to minister to the wants of the suffering.

It is feared that nearly all of the seven mail clerks perished in the disaster, but so far only six bodies have been taken from the wreck.

Those dead are:

Jim Brennan, engineer, Topeka: Nate Hollister, fireman, Topeka; J. F. Souders, Kansas City, express messenger, body almost consumed by fire; William Frisby, engineer; R. A. Doran, Emporia, postal clerk;—Gonzalez, fireman west-bound train;—Bragman, Topeka; unknown tramp.

Among the seriously injured are: Claude Holliday, express messenger; D. C. Erler, express messenger, will die; J. Dagan, J. T. Butler, may die; William F. Jones, B. P. Metik, Phil Schuer, C. A. Van Vlit, William Patrick, C. D. Adams, Michael Sweeney.

Benjamin Walter, of St. Joseph, Mo., a fireman on the west bound train, is missing.

Mrs. M'Koon's Big Ranch.

A California woman has demonstrated to the world that it is possible for one of her sex to manage a ranch successfully. Three years ago, by the death of her husband, Hosmer P. McKoon, the celebrated lawyer (whose connection with the Blythe case made his name familiar to everyone) Mrs. Fannie McKoon was left in possession of the Fatima rancho, a piece of property of 1,000 acres, fifteen miles from San Diego, Cal. The fact that she had never had any previous business training, and that her whole life since her school days had been spent entirely in filling home and social duties did not in the least deter her from assuming control of the ranch. She has never given up the management of it, and it is now one of the most successful ranges in the country, with several hundred acres of orchard near the home place, and from 600 to 1,000 head of cattle and horses on it all the time.

Just before Mr. M'Koon's death a heavy mortgage was placed on it to save other property, and Mrs. M'Koon has made the place yield sufficient income to keep up her establishment, pay the interest on the original investment, although she says she can at least double the income if some capitalist will take hold with her.

When asked how she acquired her knowledge, she said: "I had no choice. I was obliged to do it. Anyone else in my position would have done the same.'

MR. REEDER RESIGNS.

Steps Down From the Office of Secretary of the Commonwealth.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8.—General Frank Reeder, Secretary of the Commonwealth, to-day tendered his resignation to Governor Hastings, to take effect at once. The Governor asked for Secretary Reeder's resignation on Thursday.

On Thursday, September 2, Governor Hastings sent the following letter to Secretary Reeder:

"General Frank Reeder, Secretary of the Commonwealth—Dear Sir: I respectfully request your resignation as Secretary of the Commonwealth."

General Reeder answered as follows:

"EASTON, Pa., September 2, 1897. —Governor D. H. Hastings—Dear Sir: I have the honor to tender my resignation as Secretary of the Commonwealth. During my official connection with your administration I have received many kindnesses at your hands, and I desire now to express my acknowledgement of your courtesy and consideration.

"Very respectfully yours,
"FRANK REEDER."

To-day, after a conference between Governor Hastings and General Reeder, the former accepted the resignation in the following letter:

"HARRISBURG, September 8, 1897. —General Frank Reeder, Secretary of the Commonwealth—My Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of the 2nd instant, tendering your resignation as Secretary of the Commonwealth. In accepting your resignation, I desire to reciprocate the kindly expressions contained in your letter and to assure you of my high appreciation of your uniform courtesy to me. Very truly yours,

"DANIEL H. HASTINGS."

General Reeder turned the department over to Deputy Secretary Barnett and left for his home in Easton. It is known that the resignation was asked for because Governor Hastings did not approve of General Reeder being one of the ten signers of a bond indemnifying the State Treasurer for money paid out to legislative employes who were on the pay roll without authority of law.

Governor Hastings this evening tendered the office of Secretary of the Commonwealth to Col. James H. Lambert, at present Insurance Commissioner. Col. Lambert asked for time to consider the matter and consult with friends.

Private Secretary Beitler stated at midnight that Governor Hastings and Insurance Commissioner Lambert had been together at the Executive mansion all evening, and that the latter had not yet decided what action he would take on the Governor's offer.

For a Monarchy in France.

LONDON, Sept. 9—The Daily Chronicle's Paris correspondent says that a startling attempt to revise the French constitution is contemplated. The National Assembly is to be convoked at Versailles to consider a plan for the modification of the office of the President of the republic.

The Chronicle in an editorial says: "If the foregoing is verified, it is evident that an attempt will be made to take advantage of the visit of M. Faure to St. Petersburg to bring the presidents position nearer to that of a heriditary monarch. Possibly the Bonapartists and Orleanists factions might be induced to support such a movement, and there is no Gambetta to resist it. But we doubt if any serious attempt will be made. M. Hanotaux is the strongest man in the Ministry, but neither he nor M. Faure is likely to be the privot for such a change."

The Daily News Berlin correspondent says it is alleged on the authority of reliable sources at St. Petersburg that no written alliance between France and Russia exists, and that not even a verbal treaty was made, for the military convention was of an earlier date. The Czar used the phrase "allied nations" in response to the urgings of M. Hanotaux that unless something of the sort was said the French Ministry would be overthrown on President Faure's return to Paris. All the Russian Ministers were surprised upon hearing the toast proposed by the Czar and M. de Witte, the Minister of Finance asked Count Muravieff, the Foreign Minister, to explain, whereupon the foregoing was made known.

A NOON WEDDING.

William C. Hipple and Miss Lydia Spangler Married.

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday noon Sept. 8th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Spangler, at Tusseyville, at which their daughter, Miss Lydia Agnes, was united in the holy bonds with Mr. William C. Hipple, of Pine Glenn.

There were about fifty guests present to witness the ceremony, and it was a representative assemblage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James M. Runkle, pastor of the Hublersburg Reformed church. After congratulations and well-wishes had been showered upon the newly-wedded couple, the guests sat down to a most elegant repast.

In the afternoon the bride and groom took their departure for a short wedding tour. They boarded the 3:31 train at Centre Hall for Altoona, and after their return will take up their residence at the groom's home, where he is actively engaged in business. The bride received a number of valuable and useful presents. She is a very bright and accomplished young lady, one of the fairest of our valley.—Centre Reporter.

Lambert Declines the Offer.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 9.—Governor Hastings received a letter this afternoon from Insurance Commissioner Lambert declining the offer of the position of Secretary of the Commonwealth for personal reasons known to the Executive. "My personal relations with you for many years," Colonel Lambert adds, "and my official relations during the time I have held the Insurance Commissionership, have been such as could not be in any wise strengthened in my transfer to any other position."

The Governor has not yet selected a man for General Reeder's place and probably will not for several days.

Tried to Loot a Train.

LATHROP, Cal., Sept. 8.—The Southern Pacific express train No. 17, from San Francisco to Los Angeles, was held up at a switch near Morrane at 9 o'clock this evening. Elaborate preparations had been made by the train robbers, who piled ten ties across the tracks and had set the pile on fire. As the train slowed up the robbers, who were standing beside a fence near the track, fired five shots at the train.

A tramp riding on the top of the baggage car was the only person wounded. The deputy Sheriffs who happened to be on the train tried to return the fire, but the robbers, becoming frightened, ran across the fields in the direction of the San Joaquin River, without making any further attempt to loot the train.

Sons of Veterans.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., September 9.—The sixteenth annual encampment of the Sons of Veterans, United States army, opened here to-day with 500 delegates present. President Rake delivered his annual address; Charles Bookwalter extended a welcome on the behalf of the state, and the annual reports were read.

It is the largest encampment in the history of the organization. The Ladies' Aid society, auxiliary to the veterans, met with sixty-five delegates.

A Lesson to Straddlers.

The punishment that the Bryanites visited upon Harrity in Pennsylvania was well merited. Harrity has been trying to straddle the political fence ever since the Chicago Convention. He professed to be a sound money man, but supported Bryan for President. Then he began to plot and conspire to have the Democratic Convention of Pennsylvania dodge the currency question. For this treachery he has been righteously fired.—Nebraska State Journal.

IT is very kind of Chairman Jones of the late popocratic party to tell the public just what the platform of 1900 will be. But if silver goes on down as it has been going it will mean a 10-cent dollar by that time.

WITH a fall of 15 per cent. in silver and an advance of 20 per cent. in wheat since the Ohio Democratic convention, it is not surprising that Mr. McLean and his little band of followers in Ohio are trying to get away from their platform.

ARE STILL TALKING.

Delegates to the Labor Convention Not Using Compressed Air.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 9.—The miners' convention remained in executive session until late this afternoon, adjourning until to-morrow morning without having taken a vote on the proposed settlement. President Ratchford said to an Associated Press reporter to-night: "You may predict with every degree of certainty that a settlement will be reached and that the action of the national board in recommending a settlement will be indorsed. The delegates are beginning to see that the best thing they can do is to accept the proposition of the operators and return to work at the price offered.

While the convention should have finished its business to-day it was impossible to do so. Nearly every delegate desired to say something regarding conditions in his own locality and the convention had to permit them to have their say. When they have finished the convention can get to work."

PITTSBURG, Sept. 9.—The work of evicting the striking miners at Plum Creek and Clarksville was begun today and as a result of two evictions serious trouble is threatened by a mob of women who are armed with clubs and base ball bats and awaiting the arrival of Superintendent De Armitt and the deputy sheriff.

At 8:00 o'clock this morning 16 deputies evicted James McCabe and his family from one of the company houses at Plum Creek. Little resistance was offered at the time, but as soon as the house had been emptied and the furniture piled up in the middle of the street the women gathered in front of the house of the evicted family. Many of the deputies had gone and the women forced an entrance to the house again and carried the furniture back. Desperate resistance will be offered in case a second attempt is made to evict the family.

Three hours later the 16 deputies arrived at Clarksville and evicted John Puke and his family. They are Polish people, but have many friends at Clarksville. The same tactics were resorted to there after the deputies had completed their work. The furniture was carried in the house and Puke, his family and several friends have installed themselves there, prepared to make trouble for the deputies if they again attempt to evict them.

The deputies have sent for Superintendent De Armitt and he is expected here at any moment. The news of his coming spread like wildfire and the women of Clarksville have gathered outside Puke's home. They are all armed in one way or another and are sufficiently aroused to attack the deputies as soon as they return.

A Fatal Freight Wreck.

MUNCIE, Ind., September 9.—A freight train on the Lake Erie and Western railway, near Albany, was wrecked on a trestle this morning. Eight loaded cars were smashed. Charles Manor, of Portland, was killed and John Collins, of the same place, was fatally injured. They were stealing a ride. It is believed there are other men under the wreckage.

Intelligent people in this day and age almost without exception, protect themselves against smallpox, by vaccination. Consumption kills in a year more people than smallpox, cholera, yellow fever and all known plagues kill in fifty. Tens of thousands of intelligent people recognize that they are threatened by this deadly disease, but take no precautions against it.

Consumption approaches its victim step by step. First there is a little "out of sorts" feeling, the digestion isn't just right, the appetite falls off, the liver is inactive, the assimilation of the life-giving elements of the food is imperfect, the blood gets impure and the body is improperly nourished. These conditions get worse and worse. The heart through the arterial system is pumping thin, poisonous blood into every organ of the body. The organs that are inherently weakest break down first. Ordinarily the lungs. As the last straw that breaks the camel's back comes a cold, however slight. This, with the accompanying cough, completes the work and an invasion of the germs of consumption follows. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It corrects the conditions that lead up to it. It is the greatest blood-maker and flesh-builder known.

K. C. McLin, Esq., of Kempsville, Princess Anne Co., Va., writes: "When I commenced taking your 'Discovery' I was very low with a cough, and at times spit up much blood. I was not able to do the least work, but most of the time was in bed. I was all run-down, very weak, my head was dizzy, and I was extremely despondent. The first bottle I took did not seem to do me much good, but I had faith in it and continued using it until I had taken fifteen bottles, and now I do not look nor feel like the same man I was one year ago. People are astonished, and say, 'well, last year this time I would not have thought that you would be living now.' I can thankfully say I am entirely cured of a disease which, but for your wonderful 'Discovery,' would have resulted in my death."

The Ballet and the Bullet.

CHAS. H. CHAPMAN, NEW YORK CITY.

A constantly recurring argument of the anti-suffragists is the inability of women to vote or hold office on account of her incapacity for military service. To support this the remonstrants construct or imagine a state of society that exists only among animals and the lowest forms of humanity, the state of existence where brute force is everything and intellect is nothing.

The merest smattering of history is enough to convince the reflecting reader how little brute strength or skill in physical warfare has been a factor in the success of the foremost statesmen, rulers or generals, and the manners and customs of even savage people show how influence and power invariably abide with the keenest and wisest brains, not with the strongest arms.

When we endeavor to make military service the requirement for the franchise we endeavor to controvert the Declaration of Independence and the American Constitution and all the arguments and beliefs that led to the framing of these corner stones of our National Government. We must deny the existence on our legal records of those acts that give franchise to every sane male citizen of legal age, irrespective of age, condition or physical capacity. When we are prepared to admit that black is white, right is wrong, or that twice two may have other products than four, we may logically accept this statement of the anti-suffragists as truth. Not only is it entirely false that ability for military service is a requirement for the franchise, but it is a fact registered on the statute books that the only citizens debarred from the exercise of the voting privilege (excepting, of course, criminals, insane, women) are the soldiers and sailors of the United States.

As to the incapacity of women to hold public office, unfortunately for the anti-suffragist argument, women have had a large share in the work of conducting the government for many years. They have been employed in the government departments at Washington and have filled minor positions in various other places. They are likewise numerous in state and municipal governments where they are daily becoming more important factors. That they have been as efficient as men in these positions is proved by their retention in employment and there is no logical reason to doubt that they would give the same satisfaction were the offices elective instead of appointive. That they would fulfill all the functions of men is, of course, absurd; but that they would by course of natural selection, take to themselves the offices best suited to them there can be no doubt.

The anti-suffragists argue that were war to be declared every woman in office would be a useless and clogging burden on the administration. Deeds speak louder than words. The records of the hospital corps in the great war of the rebellion and the magnificent services of Sanitary commission show that women can find work to do in war as well as in peace and in each state can be the equal in her duty of man in his.

Build up the Town.

Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage says that "a newspaper whose columns overflow with advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to and building up a town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capitol and labor will locate where there is an enterprising community. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as a newspaper well patronized, and its power should be appreciated."

Municipal Ownership.

The fact that Philadelphia is seriously considering a proposition for the leasing of her gas works to a private corporation for a term of thirty years is interpreted in some quarters as a powerful blow at the principle of municipal ownership of establishments of this character; but this view of the case is rather hasty. The trouble with the gas works owned by the city of Philadelphia is that, under the sort of municipal government they have there, the management of the gas works has been corrupt and inefficient, and they are now found to be in a sadly deteriorated condition. They are not only not up to date, but are greatly dilapidated. Through antiquated equipment the quality of the gas is poor. Through old and inadequate mains nearly a quarter of the product is wasted. It will require from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 to put the works in good order for the efficient and economical manufacture and distribution of gas. A private corporation now offers to take charge of the works, to expend $10,000,000 in repairs and extensions, and turn the works over to the city at the end of thirty years, the city meanwhile to be guaranteed a better quality of gas at a price to be fixed by itself.

The Bicycle Pin.

The newest craze among wheelwomen is the bicycle pin. This, it is said, will be very popular. If so it be owing to the bicycle craze and not to any amount of beauty in the pin. It is about the ugliest thing the jewelers have as yet designed in their efforts to please wheelwomen. It is about one inch in dimention, a minature wheel in gold with silver gearings and coldred enameled handle bars, and a small jewel in place of a screw. Some of these little affairs are quite elaborately, carved, but altogether the effect is neither pretty nor graceful. Still, it is the latest fad, and all wheelwomen seem well pleased at their possession. It is but a modern case of the old woman who kissed the cow.

A Car Jumper's Fate.

Yesterday morning while William Dietrich, of Milton, was stealing a ride on a Philadelphia and Reading freight, a sudden jolt threw him between the cars to the tracks below. He rolled off the track, but a journal box struck his head and dragged him a short distance. His neck was broken, his head was crushed to a jelly and his right arm was fractured.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

A Friendly Warning.

The United States government makes but a poor showing in dealing with the disorder incident to the Yukon gold craze. The Canadian government has moved up its mounted police—to all intents and purposes cavalry—and has maintained by all accounts perfect order. The government at Washington has had ample warning. Alaska is a territory completely under executive control. It would have been perfectly easy by putting a force of cavalry and infantry on the trail to have maintained order. Instead nothing has been done and riot and lawlessness at Skaguay are laying the worst possible foundations for a future State. Fifty years ago, when California was distant, some excuse existed for our neglect, which ended in the San Francisco Vigilence Committee. There is no excuse to-day, and the failure of the Interior and War Departments to deal with these disorders early is a serious fault which is not too late to remedy.—Philadelphia Press.

THE WAY IT GOES.

When Tom and Bill were baby boys
Infant Bill
Was fretful, squally, full of noise—
Homely Bill—
Redheaded, and it was a fact
From morn till night his parents racked
To keep his neck from being cracked—
Troublesome Bill.

As he grew older folks would say
Lazy Bill,
But naught he'd care, it was his way,
Shiftless Bill.
He'd spend his time in idle joys,
And put his jobs on other boys,
Poor fools that followed his decoys—
Scheming Bill.

And when the boys to college went,
Foolish Bill,
To grinding work no interest lent,
Hopeless Bill;
While Tom was quick and apt to learn,
And said bright things at every turn,
That made the slow with envy burn—
Sluggish Bill.

School life was done, with all its joys,
Thankful Bill;
And business life claimed both the boys—
A chance for Bill—
Tom made a noise—a stir—you know,
But somehow never seemed to go,
While close-mouthed Bill raked in the dough
Knowing Bill.

The years have come and gone away
For Tom and Bill.
Tom keeps a set of books each day,
And Bill
Has office hours from 10 till 2,
He's looking for new worlds to do,
He owns a block, a bank or two—
Incomprehensible Bill.

HER CREDENTIALS.

Herbert Savin was reading a letter. He scowled as he read, and interrupted himself by various petulant exclamations, such as "Oh, pshaw!" "Fine arrangement, on my word." "The idea!" "Great heavens, a baby?" and even stronger expressions of displeasure given in such a tranquil rage that possibly the recording angel blotted them out with a tear. For herbert had a big, generous heart, and as soon as he had finished reading the letter it had warmed toward the poor motherless baby whom his sister had adopted and was now sending to him by a new nursemaid.

The letter gave one reading it a confirmation of the idea that language was invented to conceal thought.

"She is such a dear little thing," it ran on, "and has never lived out before—not the baby, but the maid—and I am sure you will like her—not the maid, but the baby—and her father was a country minister or something and the family lost all their property, and I know you will have patience, dear, and not choke her if she cries—the baby, you know—and I will try to be home in a week—if not sooner."

"How like my erratic sister," said Herbert. "Here she sends me a peripatetic orphan asylum, and expects me to be delighted. I must inform Mrs. Daniels, and she will probably give notice."

He rang the bell for the housekeeper. He gave her his sister's letter to read. After all, the house and all therein, belonged to her; they had simply to obey orders.

"A baby!" said Mrs. Daniels, in much the same tone as she might have used in speaking of a crocodile.

"Of course it will be a nuisance at first to have a baby in the house," said Herbert, "but I dare say it's a nice little thing. And I say, Margaret, put them both in the furthest guest chamber—the terra cotta room—until my sister is here. It's far enough away, so that visitors will not be disturbed if the baby should cry. But I don't think it will," he added, hastily.

"I wonder if she will come like the wolf on the fold, bringing the cub with her," asked Herbert to himself; "I suppose the correct thing will be to send the carriage to the depot to meet the train. Two o'clock! By George! that train is now due. I must rush Owen off at once."

So the coachman was dispatched to the train, but scarcely had the sound of the horses' feet died away on the avenue when a hack drove up to the house, and Herbert, who was just going out, saw that the baby and its nurse had arrived. He ran down the steps and opened the door of the carriage.

"I am very sorry," he began, "but there was a misstatement about the time. My sister wrote that—" Then he stopped. He could not go on with the fabrication when a pair of clear, radiant eyes were looking into his.

"You are Mr. Savin?" asked the maid, as she handed out a fluffy bundle, whence a faint murmur proceeded.

"Yes. But I shall expect you to call me Mr. Herbert," he said

"I shall do nothing of the kind," was the surprising response, and then Herbert, who had just had his ears metaphorically boxed, noticed a daintily-shod foot on the carriage step, and a rather tall young woman jumped lightly to the pavement in a manner that indicated a perfect familiarity with carriage deportment.

"If you will bring the baby into the house I will relieve you of it, as you don't seem to know what to do with it," she said, and Herbert meekly led the way and ushered her into the library.

"I will send for the housekeeper, and she will take you to your room. I presume you know what your duties are, and it will not be necessary for me to explain them. If there is anything you need you can mention it to Mrs. Daniels. You will find her very kind."

"Then you have not engaged a nurse for the baby?' said the girl, pushing back the masses of ruddy hair from a very attractive face.

"No, my dear—I beg pardon—Miss—you have not mentioned your name."

The look she gave him was withering. Then she walked out of the room and went in search of the housekeeper herself.

"Whew!" said Herbert. "A minister's daughter! By George! she must be a king's daughter by the way she carries herself. What possessed Alice to engage such a girl as that and bring her here? She's too fine for the place."

He did not see her again that day, but the baby was dressed and sent down, and he experienced a degree of astonishment when he saw in it that he was not prepared for in the least. In the first place, it was a perfect cherub in its appearance, with the sweetest and most appealing smile, dimple of the cherubic order, and golden hair that fluffed about its face like an aureole.

In the morning he sent for the young woman. She came, and proved to be more attractive by the cruel light of day. Her dress was of elegant cut and finish, and set off her stately form to advantage.

"You wished to speak to me?" she said, and Herbert thought he saw a gleam of amusement in her face, and it made him angry.

"I merely wish to ask you—to—know —"

It was not easy to say what was in his mind, with those eyes looking at him from under their level brows.

"I would like to know how Mrs. Roberts—my—sister—happened to meet you and secure your valuable services in the—your present capacity."

He had stammered and halted as the expression in her face changed from amusement to anger, and then to contempt.

"You wish to see my credentials?" she asked presently.

"It is customary," he answered.

"I think Ali—I beg pardon, Mrs. Roberts, is the one to demand credentials," she replied.

"You are not what you seem to be; you are masquerading," Herbert retorted hotly.

"I think you will be satisfied when your sister returns; that will be to-morrow. Until then I have nothing to say, and I will not desert my charge."

Herbert tried another tack.

"As the baby is to be a fixture in the family, I suppose I must order a perambulator to take the little thing out for an airing. Or you can go with Mrs. Daniels and make the selection yourself."

The girl laughed—yes, actually laughed in his face. He was furious at his own discomforture, and rushed on to destruction.

"And since you do not seem at all prepared for filling your position in a suitable manner, I would suggest that you wear the customary black dress and white apron and cap of the regular nursemaid; it will define your position in the family."

If he expected an outbreak of wrath he was mistaken. A pained look came into the refined face, and tears started in the overcharged eyes. But she answered in a calm voice.

"I object on the principle to the uniform of domestic service, and do not intend to wear it. We will wait, if you please, until your sister is here before we make any plans," and she swept from the room like a young princess, with her head thrown back in regal disdain.

But an hour later she condescended to accept his offer of the carriage and horses to take baby for a ride, and, accompanied by Mrs. Daniels, drove to the Park.

Then an incident occurred that had all the elements of a tragedy in it. A horseback rider, one of the gilded youth of the city, but a good fellow withal, and a great friend and chum of Herbert Savin, rode up to the Roberts carriage at a gallop and nearly flung himself from the saddle in order to grasp the extended hand of the girl sitting there.

Herbert caught the words "Nellie, darling!" in an incredulous, but most loving tone, and a pang of jealous anger disturbed him, then there were sudden cries, the mad rush of frightened horses, and the carriage in which the girl was composedly sitting was whirled away at a breakneck run.

Herbert spurred his horse at a pace that equalled that of the runaways, and at the same moment a mounted policeman dashed off in pursuit, and the team was stopped before any damage was done, but Herbert had the inexplicable chagrin of seeing Gould Lorraine clasp the form of the frightened girl to his heart and hearing him say,—

"Thank God, Nellie, you were not hurt."

"Gould, dear, I was looking for you; that is why I came to the park," she answered, returning his caress.

Gloomy as a stone pillar, Herbert stood, trying later to soothe Mrs. Daniels and help her adjust the baby, when he found his faculties.

But it was Gould Lorraine that was the astonished person now.

"When did you come? What are you doing in that carriage? Why did you not come home?'

Those were the questions the young man asked, and at each one the intonation in his voice grew stronger and more indignant.

"You know, I met Alice Savin—Mrs. Roberts—abroad after our school days," said Nellie, in response to her brother's questions. "I chanced to visit the same friends on the way home, and she asked me, or, rather, I offered, to bring the baby she had adopted home with me, and left the maid to come with her. I had no idea her brother was at home; she did not speak of him to me."

So this was the charming, accomplished friend of his sister, Eleanor Lorraine, whom he had never chanced to meet. A more complete discomfiture could not have been planned.

But all's well that ends well. The timely arrival of Mrs. Roberts with the genuine nursemaid relieved Miss Lorraine of any further responsibility, and in due time Herbert was forgiven.

And neither of them ever knew that unpleasant experience was one of the deep-laid schemes of that "erratic" Mrs. Roberts to bring her dear friend and her bachelor brother together.

GOVERNOR IN A HUFF.

Quarrel at Harrisburg Over Plans for New Capitol.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 9.—The commission which has in charge the erection of a new State Capitol at a cost of $550,000 came into conflict with Gov. Hastings this afternoon, when, against his vigorous protest, they rejected all the plans recommended by the Board of Experts and decided to ask the architects for new ones. The Governor was so displeased that he withdrew from the meeting and declined to further participate in the commission's proceedings. It is expected that he will resign from that body.

The trouble began when Senator McCarroll offered a resolution disapproving the action of the Board of Experts in excluding from the competition of architects the designs of Harding & Gooch, of New York, and Furness, Evans & Co., of Philadelphia. The resolutions also provided that the envelopes containing the names of the thirty competitors be requested of Judge Simonton and opened, and that if the names of the authors of the two plans thrown out be fon d among them that all designs be sent back to the competing architects.

Senator McCarrell and Auditor General Mylin spoke against the recommendation of the Board of Experts, and urged the adoption of the resolution. Gov. Hastings was emphatically opposed to the resolution, and made a formal protest, which he requested to be placed on the minutes of the commission. John M. Carrere, of New York, speaking for the Board of Exports, said that they had acted as final, and that they declined to make another examination of the rejected drawings.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 4 to 1, Gov. Hastings voting in the negative. Those favoring the resolution were Auditor General Mylin. Senator McCarrell, State Treasurer Haywood, and Speaker Boyer. The Governor retired from the room with Attorney General McCormick, who acted as legal advisor of the committee. A second resolution was offered by Senator McCarrell and adopted after which the committee adjourned to meet next Monday. Gov. Hastings sent word by Private Secretary Beitler that he would not attend the meeting.

The second resolution annuls and cancels all the provisions of the competition, save only those describing the buildings to be coverrd by the designs and grounds to be occupied thereby, and the mandatory provisions limiting the cost. The Governor in his formal protest accuses the members of the commission, who upheld the resolution of violating the faith and credit of the committee and the honor of the Commonwealth.

An Ohio Man in Luck.

Upper Sandusky, O., Sept, 6.—Mrs. Minnie Peters of this city has received a letter from her son, Harry B., who is enroute to Klondyke, dated St. Michaels, August 13 in which he says he met F. Powers o Marysville, O., who, with a partner made $120,000 each out of one claim they discovered last winter, and then sold it for $120,000.

Powers is on his way home, and says the Klondyke is the richest country in the world.

Peters says there will be great suffering this winter, and cautions no one to get to the Klondyke before next June, and no one should attempt to go over the trail unless a good canoe man. The necessary cash for the trip, he says, is at least $500.

World's Supply of Wheat.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The Mark Lane Express, reviewing the crop situation, says to-day: "The weather has been adverse to the completion of the harvest, and the quantity of grain still out is considerable.

"The French wheat crop is estimated at 31,000,000 quarters by the chief writers of the Paris press. Correspondents of English business firms state that the crop will amount to from 33,000,000 to 36,000,000 quarters.

"The Austro-Hungarian crop is stated to be 17,000,000 quarters. If this is true, it adds greatly to the gravity of the situation.

"The American crop is reckoned by careful judges to be 68,500,000 quarters, or 11,000,000 quarters improvement to offset a decline of 9,000,000 quarters in Russia and 6,000,000 to 10,000,000 quarters in France.

"All the figures point, therefore, to a deficiency in the world's supply of 14,000,000 quarters. Should the demand be actually as large as this, the stores of old wheat will be used up, and a crisis of great seriousness will only be prevented by generally good prospects for the spring of 1898. We are not, however, entitled to argue that such prospects will be more than the average.

Sunbonnets for Horses.

Chicago Chronicle.

Several specimens of foreign-made hats for horses have been recently sent to England by the British consul at Bordeaux, France, who in his report says the hats are now in general use in that district. He adds that only a few years since the Bordeaux Tramway Company lost annually during the hot weather about a dozen horses on an average through sunstroke, but since the introduction of the headgear in question they have not lost a single animal from that cause. The specimens are made of rush, in the shape of a wide-brimmed and high-crowned hat, with holes for the horses ears, and bound with red braid and strings to tie "under the chin."

As a reuslt of this French device for protecting man's best friend from the torrid rays of the sun it is not surprising to learn that the British National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has taken the headgear matter up seriously and that in several English cities large orders for horses' sunbonnets have already been placed with manufacturers by tramway companies and other extensive users of horseflesh. Clearly there is a valuable hint here to American humane societies, which have tried, with only partial success to ameliorate the condition of the dumb burden bearers in city streets.

Shot Through His Heart.

Tuesday morning Jacob Betts, residing near Watsontown, found the dead body of Amos Ritter in his potato patch, about 200 yards from Ritter's home. When found the face of the dead man was covered with a red handkerchief, over which had been placed a black wool hat, the property of the dead man, His shoes had been removed and set together close to his feet, and along his right side, and for some distance from that side of his body there was blood spattered about, and evidence of a struggle. He was shot through the heart, and cut with a knife in the face.

Ritter was a married man with a grown family, but did not live with his wife. He lived alone, his children being married and residing in surrounding towns. The coroner is investigating the case.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8,—The Industrial World to-morrow will say: "In spite of the evidence that the coal strike is near an end, with its promise of cheaper fuel, there has been further strength in western iron and steel. Grange Encampment.

The Pennsylvania Patrons of Husbandry, more familiarly known as the Grangers, are holding their annual meeting this week in Centre county. The Grange is one of the most important societies in the country. When it was organized the aim was to effect some revolutions in trade methods, to dispense with the middleman, who bought and sold, but was not a producer, and other impossible hopes were entertained. Gradually the Granger learned that the man who distributes is as necessary as the man who produces, and that the railroads that carry are not the foe but the absolute necessity of the farmer. Perceiving that there is no room for any great revolution, the Grangers turned their attention to adapting themselves more to the conditions they found. The farmer was brought into closer contact with his neighbor. Better methods were discussed at Grange meetings. A new interest was awakened among the older population of the farm, and the younger members of the farmers' families were turned from the loneliness of isolated farm life to the more social atmosphere of the Grange.

As a factor in changing commercial practices the Grange was powerless but it had an effect just as good as the most hopeful Granger could have asked when it set men to thinking about how to make the farm yield more and better returns, through better and more intelligent attention to detail as well as to general principles of farming. The Grange brought to every community where one was located a new enthusiasm which has never been wholly lost. It stimulated a demand for Grange and farm literature, and the Grange literature became ultimately farm literature. That 100,000 people are expected to attend the meetings this week shows the extent of the Grange influence. The improved methods of farming and the higher standard of living on the farm show the power of it.

"A perfect type of the highest order of excellence in manufacture."

GRANGER PICNIC ALMOST OVER.

The Most Successful Event of the Kind For Years.

5,000 PRESENT YESTERDAY.

Interesting Addresses Were Made by Hon. J. T. Ailman, of Pennsylvania, Hon. David Lubin, of California, Mrs. Helen Johnson and Miss Emma Brewer.

FULL ACCOUNT OF DAYS PROCEEDINGS

The attendance at Grange Park on the opening day was much more than usual. A careful count showed that more than fifty tents were occupied by Saturday night. Exhibitors were busy all day getting their machinery and implements in position. Department storekeepers, restauranters, venders of small wares and amusement men were actively engaged in getting ready for the coming Exhibition and Picnic, which will open to-day and will undoubtedly attract the largest crowd ever witnessed on Grange Park.

The Committee of Arrangement had performed their work well. The grounds were in excellent condition and everything in readiness for the annual meeting. The turf is hard and dry but not dusty or unpleasant in the least.

A number of tenters came in and secured quarters for the week without previous application, which assures the Management that more tenters will be on the Park than in previous years.

No former year ever witnessed such an extraordinary activity and interest on the opening day of the Park.

Saturday night was cool and pleasant and at 10 p. m. the camp was quiet and the busy throng, many of whom had traveled a number of miles through the heat of the day, retired for wanted rest, with only here and there an unobtrusive patrolman on his grand rounds.

Sabbath morning opened pleasantly with the atmosphere cooler than the preceding day. The sky was overcast with clouds, indicating rain, for which everybody very devoutly wished. Complete quiet prevailed; not a sound of hammer or mattock was heard, and the denizens on the Park were intent on enjoying the Sabbath as a day of rest.

At 10:30 a. m. Rev. Mr. Faus, of the M. E. church, preached an impressive and interesting sermon in defence of the Divine Inspiration of the Bible. He was listened to by an attentive audience. At 6:00 p. m. the Christian Endeavor of the Evangelical church held service, and at 7:30 Rev. Mr. Rhodes delivered an earnest discourse to a large and interested congregation. He presented his subject in a very impressive manner.

This closed the services of the Sabbath. A large number of visitors were on the Park during the day. The best of order prevailed and at 9:00 o'clock the camp was as quiet as country homes, and the tenters retired to rest in expectation of a busy time on the morrow.

To-day (Monday) will be largely occupied by tenters fixing up their homes and exhibitors getting their stock in shape for the Exhibition.

A building is fitted up for the display of poultry, which, it is expected, will be full and comprise specimens of domestic birds that will be well worth special notice hereafter.

The opening exercises of the entertainment will take place at 7:30 this evening in the Auditorium, when the Chairman of the Committee of Arrangement will formally turn over the Picnic to the Master of the County Grange. Short addresses will be delivered by the Worthy Lecturer of Pomona, I. S. Frain, and others. Miss Brewer, of Delaware county, a trained elocutionist and general favorite, will entertain the audience with choice selections in her inimitable style.

Monday finds Grangers' Picnic in a bustle early this morning; families began to move onto the grounds from all sections of the country. Old friends meet one another again and talk of what happened since they last met, and so this happy crowd of people are passing the week in an enjoyable way. All day long farmers kept coming, and it was about 2 o'clock in the afternoon when the "jolly farmers" from the DAILY NEWS office reached the grounds, and they were cordially welcomed by Hon. Leonard Rhone and Col. James F. Weaver. It was not long until they were comfortably situated and everything was in perfect order, and work began immediately.

No meetings of any account to the public were held during the day; all were of a purely business character relating to the Grange. In the evening, promptly at 7:30, the first meeting was held in the Auditorium, which was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting and presented a grand sight. There are flags of every nation with their motto printed on each.

The ladies of the County Grange have a very well gotten up coat of arms and the motto of every State in the Union. These flags have been put in the Auditorium. We wish to extend our congratulations to the ladies for the success of their efforts and the excellent taste displayed.

As we stated above, the evening session began at 7:30. Mr. George Dale, an old and honored gentleman and Master of the County Grange, opened the meeting by announcing that the choir would sing a song entitled "Wherever There's a Will There's a Way." Just here we may state that the choir and all the singing was under the leadership of Mr. Philip Dale. Mr. Dale is a middle-aged gentleman, very stately looking and possesses a good voice, which is very sweet and well trained. This choir, under Mr. Dale's leadership, rendered some fine music. His accomplished daughter, Miss Mary Dale, presided at the organ. Miss Dale is also a grand student in music; it seems to be hereditary, as her mother is also a singer.

After the choir had rendered this beautiful song Rev. Dr. W. W. Rhodes made a very earnest prayer in behalf of the County Grange. In it he prayed that God might bless the officers of the Grange, their families, the government of Pennsylvania, and all through his prayer was that our nation, as well as all others, might soon be brought to see the Light of God and be drawn to Him. Mr. Boal then announced that he would give the meeting over in charge of Mr. Isaac Frain. Just here we may say, Mr. Frain made a most excellent talk. He spoke of how the Grangers were prospering, and how the farming industries were moving onward to great and grand success. He spoke of the Grange Insurance company, of which he is president, and says it is meeting with success everywhere. They have over two millions of dollars in capital to back them up. He spoke of how promptly their fire losses were always paid. Mr. Frain's speech was full of interesting thoughts. He is also a stanch adherent of woman's suffrage and gave his views on this subject in a very clear and forcible manner. His speech was greeted again and again with applause. He introduced Hon. Leonard Rhone, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements. Mr. Rhone needed no introduction, as he is very favorably and well known all over Pennsylvania. His talk was of a high and polished character. He spoke of how the farmers of to-day were prospering and how bright the future was for them, and how the price of grain had advanced so as to give the farmer a little profit and repay them for their hard and tedious labor. Mr. Rhone's talk was listened to with the greatest of interest, and before closing he welcomed everyone to the grounds.

Col. J. F. Weaver, Lecturer of Pomona, on behalf of the Grange, responded to the remarks of Mr. Rhone, Chairman of Committee of Arrangement, by saying:

When the speaker was much younger than he appeared to-night, he was charmed and delighted by that marvellous creation of genius and imagination, in which the principal character fell into a deep sleep which lasted for 20 years when he suddenly awaked in wonder and astonishment at the changed conditions which surrounded him. He said the changed conditions of the Grange in less than a quarter of a century the wonderful growth and the unprecedented advancement in social, educational and fraternal progress, strikingly reminded him of the changed conditions which confronted the renowned Rip Van Winkle! Then the Grange was in its infancy the local organization were few the people of the rural districts unacquainted and comparatively unknown. Year by year the organization, gathered strength and gained in number and influence. The weak and timid sneared at organization, that would be wise men, prophecied would not last a year, began to assume enlarged dimentions.

It had evidently come to stay, and to-day was exerting an untold influence for goods. The thoughtful and intelligent audience before him in the auditorum on Grange Park significantly attested the social and educational advancement affected through the instrumentality of the Grange.

The estrangement of former years had disappeared and the noble principles of fraternity cemented the Agricultured people in common bonds. He urged the farmers to organize not for the purpose of despoiling others or infringing upon the rights of any, but to protect and defend themselves. He held in high regard the man or woman who entertained positive convictions as to duty and had the moral courage to stand up and defend them, Without such courage we were but mere instruments and slaves.

The speaker held the Grange in high esteem—did not claim for it Divine origin, but insisted it was a great moral force to unify and organize the great conservative element of our country. He hinted at the impurities, selfishness and greed that existed in our government and declared that the much needed reform must come from the conservative action of the great agricultural class of the country. He closed by saying he would not attempt to say what the grange of the future would be but he sincerely hoped it would continue to go forward, in its good work, until local Grange halls would stand by the side of the public school house and the church in every section and unite in common effort to educate and elevate the great agricultural class, upon whom largely depend the future of our country.

After Mr. Weaver's address the choir sang, "The Good old Farm." Miss Brewer was introduced and very ably recited a piece entitled Cooking Husbands.

A good many husbands are utterly spoiled by mismanagement. Some women go about it as if their husbands were foot balls to blow them up, others keep them constantly in hot water, others let them freeze by their carelessness and indifference, some keep them in a stew by irritating ways and words, others roast them, some keep them in pickle all their lives. It cannot be supposed that any husband will be tender and good managed in this way, but they are really delicious when properly cooked. In selecting a husband you should not be guided by the silvery appearance, as in buying mackeral not by the gold tint, as if you wanted salmon. Be very sure to select him yourself, as tastes differ. Do not go to market for him, as the best are always brought to your door. A preserving kettle of the finest porcelain is the best, but if you have nothing but a common earthen ware pipkin it will do with care. See that the linen in which you wrap him is clean and with the required number of buttons and strings sewed on. Tie him in the kettle by a strong, silk cord called comfort as the one called duty is apt to be neat. They are apt to fly out of the kettle and be burned and crusty on the edges, since like crabs and lobsters you have to cook them while alive. Make a clear steady fire of love, neatness and cheerfulness, set him near this, as it seems to agree with him. If he sputters and frizzes, do not be anxious some husbands do this until they are quite done. Add a little sugar in the form of kisses, but on no account any vinigar, or pepper, a little spice improves them but it must be used with judgement. Do not stick any sharp instruments into him to see if he is becoming tender. Stir him gently, watch all the while, lest he be too close to the kettle and becomes useless.

You will find him very digestable agreeing with you and the children and he will keep as long as you want unless you become careless and put him in a cool place. After Miss Brewers essay on husbands was read a very pretty duet was sung by Misses Mary Dale and Ida Rhoades. Miss Rhodes is a daughter of Rev. Dr. Rhodes of Centre Hall, it was certainly very well rendered both young ladies posess beautiful and well trained voices, it was entitled "The Land of the Swallow." The evening meeting was then brought to a close.

THE TOM THUM WEDDING.

What was called a "Tom Thumb," wedding took place last evening in the large auditorum. The people began to gather early and long before the curtain was to rise this roomy building was packed to the doors and quite a large audience was on the outside. Messrs. Thomas Moore and John Thomas were the gallant ushers and showed the many people to their respective places.

Promptly at 7:30 the grand orchestra, composed of the following ladies and gentlemen 1st, violin Miss Mamie Kreamer Miss Ida Rhoades, Mr. Bert Poulston and Prof Bierley, 2nd violin, Dr. W. A. them to the platform most of them would arrive in couples some come by themselves, and when they would get to the platform, Master John S. Hosterman would give them the names of some of the honorable people of Pennsvalley, such as Mr. and Mrs Rhone and Mr. and Mrs. Dale, and so on and in this way he would introduce them, which made it so much more real. They would march up the aisle in step with the music as though they had been at many weddings. We may state just here, a very large tent was pitched just outside the door of the auditourm and carpet laid down the ailse, they would walk from the rear of the building to the stage.

When the guests would step on the platform they were met by Miss Clara Poulson, mother of the bride and Miss Louise Spangler mother of the groom. They stood a little toward the back part of the stage, and when the guest would arrive they would go up and shake hands with these little patronesses, they were dressed very beautifully with long trailing dressess, and their hair put upon top of their heads. All of the guests were mostly dressed in white or pink silk or mull with long trains to their gowns, the young men were mostly dressed in full dress. They were as follows:

Lizzie Boozer, Marian Miller, Mamie Emerick, Bertha McCormick, these young ladies had no escort, but were shown the way very gallantly by the ushers, to the stage. Next came, Elsey Rearick, Roy McCanahan, Myrtle Clemens, Roy Clemens, Nina Snyder, Floyd Snyder, Sylvia Krumrine, Sumner Kerstetter, Ruth Thomas, John Rowe. Samuel Krumrine was an old bachlar and walked by himself, Rose Taylor, Cleveland Taylor,

After all the guests had arrived the beautiful strains of the Lohengrin wedding pealed forth, and it was announced by Master John S. Hosterman, that bridal party had arrived, and every body all over the house seemed to be anxious to see them, it seemed so real that really one of the young ladies sitting near the reporter of this paper said "My wedding will be just as this one was carried on to-night" so congratulations are in order with Miss Emma. Well the bridal party truly arrived. The first to enter was the grand parents Esther Foreman and Raymond Erdman. Maiden aunt and the bride's little brother, Katie Keller and Ralph Dinges, the minister came next with a long black robe on and a book in his hand, he walked very reverently upon the stage, it was Master John Erdman. Next came the ushers and groomsmen, Ross Bush and Guy Foreman, Chas. Lee, Clair Schrefler, Roy Lee, and Rufus Rearick, the two latter being rhe ushers. Next came the groom and best man Harvey Nearhood, Ralph Lee. Brides maids Lena Emerick, Grace Crawford, Bertha Erdman, Anna Condo, Helen Sando and Bertha Strohmeyer.

Maid of honor was Miss Grace Boob and when she entered she certainly presented a beautiful sight, many said she looked like her mother when she was young, if so Mr. Boob was a mighty lucky man. The little flower girls were Emma Rowe, Blanch Rowe, Rhea Keller, Isabel Rowe, Jennie Kerstetter and Mary Rearick. The bride and her father came next, she was certainly what you might call the queen of brides, she was about three feet tall and about eight years old, she wore a beautiful white dress trimmed with lace, she wore white kid gloves and white slippers and a long white veil. The groom was a handsome little fellow, and will certainly be a great helpmate through life. The bride's name was Minnie McCormick and her father was Rufus Lee. When the bride stepped on the stage the groom stepped forward and she took his arm and both stepped in front of the preacher, and all was over in a little while. The minister congratulated them, then one by one the little guests would come up and do the same. After congratulations were over they sat down to an elegant wedding dinner. The waiters were William Wolf and Bruce Rowe and during this reception a few recitations were delivered by Misses Grace Boob, Katie Keller, Louise Spangler and Marion Miller, to these young ladies we extend our highest compliments for the way they delivered their speeches. When the reception was over, again the strains of the Loghengrin wedding march sounded and two by two these little people left the auditorium. This entertainment has been a good bit of trouble to the ladies who so earnestly got it up and we feel like complimenting them also for the success which has crowned their efforts. It was held under the auspices of the ladies' aid society of the Reformed church of which Rev. Eisenberg is pastor. We feel it our duty to mention the names of these ladies so that all may know whom to give credit to. Madames Boozer, Mingle, Meyer, Hosterman, Isenberg, and Yearick, Misses Aggie Murray, Mary Kreamer, Tace Creamer, Emma and Grace Alexander, Jennie Thomas, May Keller and Kate Fleisher.

We may say in closing; the stage was beautifully decorated. A large arch of laurel and ferns stood in the centre and a bell of pure white hung from the centre of it. They cleared something over seventy-five dollars.

We may say that the bride's cake was sold through the audience for five cents a slice, a ring had been put in and it was found by Miss Fannie Fisher of Linden Hall.

There was no meeting Tuesday morning as the ladies of the grange were superintending the putting up of the flags, but in the afternoon it began promptly at two o'clock Col. Weaver made a few remarks previous to the instruction of Prof. Gramley, Cols words are always full of love and sympathy for his fellow men. After a few words he introduced county Supt Gramley who made an excellent address which will be published later, after Prof. Gramleys address Miss Brewer was introduced and recited.

TAKING SIDES.

COME, children, and listen; I'll tell you in rhyme
A story of something that happened one time;
There was a war in the land, and each brave heart beat high.
And many went forth for their country to die;
But words fail to tell of the fear and dismay
Which swept the small village of W—— one day
When the enemy's army marched into the street,
And their own vilant soldiers were forced to retreat.
Such hiding, surrendering, and trembling with fear!
When, what in the midst of it all should appear
But Grandmother Gregory, feeble and old,
Coming out from her cottage, courageous and bold
She faced the intruders who marched through the land.
Shaking at them the poker she held in her hand
"How foolish!" her friends cried, provoked, it is true;
"Why grandmother, what did you think you could do?"
"Not much," answered grandma, "but ere they were gone
I wanted to show them which side I was on."

Now, children, I've told this queer story to you
To remind you of something the weakest can do—
There is always a fight 'twixt the right and the wrong.
And the heat of the battle it borne by the strong;
But no matter how small or unfit for the field.
Or how feeble or graceless the weapon you wield,
O, fail not until the last enemy's gone.
To stand up and show them which side you are on.

—Anna R. Henderson.

Wednesday morning, the sun rose early and beamed brightly on the old camp grounds. It was rather warm in the tents, but toward evening it was most pleasant and cool. The trains from down around Coburn were crowed, and people come rom every direction in conveyences of every kind, until the crowd was great and the throng began to move back and forward, up and down the wide streets.

Every morning the famous Pleasant Gap band, gathers in front of the headquarters and renders some very fine music.

Any time during the day you go along what is called fakers row, you will find every man, boy and child as busy as can be, you would think you were in some big city. It is quite amusing sometimes when by chance, you happen down that way to see how many people are being faked, it is certainly a good lesson to a good many of them, but one can't help pitying them. As we stated above the day began, with the sun beaming brightly, and as early as five o'clock the people began to stir around, and walk up and down the avenue.

Then it is not long until the music at the Carousells begins and everybody is up and on the go from morning until night.

Mr. J. F. Ailman Sec. of the state grange, made a most excellent address, we will endeavor to give you a portion of it. Mr. Ailman is a most pleasant and delightful speaker and certainly held his audience, with ease.

The morning session began promptly at ten o'clock, the choir singing two or three beautiful peices and then Col. Weaver introduced Rev. Ralph Illingsworth, Mr. Illingsworth is also a lawyer, and has made a preatice for himself, that he need not be ashamed of, he is a smart good looking and very pleasant gentleman, and holds an audience on any subject, when he was introduced he stepped to the front of the platform, and gave a very interesting talk on what he termed, "The Margin," he spoke of how everybody ought to have a margin to everything, he says without a margin a man knows not where he is going or what he is doing. His talk although was very instructive and interesting. Next on the programe was Hon. J. A. Gundy, of Lewisburg, he spoke on Commerse Fertilizing, we were able to get some of the most important part of Mr. Gundys speech and it is as follows:

How to tell the value of any Commercial Fertilizer sold in Pa.

All packages of fertilizers are by law required to have the analysis of its contents placed on the package. This analysis usually contains two columns of figures, but the first column is the only one that the manufacturer is bound to furnish. Therefore discard the second row of figures entirely., If that quantity is in it, it is in by mistake. Frequently the same things are repeated by saying equivolent to so and so.

There are but three elements in any fertilizer of any material value to the farmer.

These are Ammonia, Available Phosphoric Acid and Potash. If you are willing to pay the Agent, a fair commission of profit, you will not be greatly wronged by estimating values as follows.

Ammonia $2.50	for every cwt
Available Phos. Acid $1.	" "	"
Potash (Actual) $1	" "	"

Thus a fertilizer having the following analysis would be valued as follows:

Ammonia 2. per c multiplied by	$2.50	500
Av. Phos. Acid 9 c	"	$1.00 9.00
Potash, (Actual) 2 c	"	$1.00 2.00
Total value		$16.00

But by organizing and buying in large quantities and mixing yourselves, prices can be reduced on the above goods to about

Ammonia 2. per	@ $2.00	400
Av. Phos. Acid 9	" 75	6.75
Potash (Actual 2	" 80	1.60
		$12.35

This includes freight to any place within 200 miles of the sea coast.

Do not be deceived by any claims made by Agents or others. Buy only on the analysis and do not pay about the prices named and you can rest assured you will not be cheated.

After Mr. Gundy's speech the audience was pleased and delighted when Col. Weaver introduced Miss Emma L. Lewis, a very well trained elocutionist, of Northumberland. She recited this only too true a poem in a most excellent way. The subject was "Over the Hill to the Rum Shop." After this recitation Hon. M. S. Bond, Master of the Northumberland and Montour Co. Pomona grange, made a solid argument in favor of the Grange, as the great lever for the elevation of the agricultural class of to-day. Mr. Bond's argument was very good and he convinced the people very readily of what he was saying. After his excellent address the morning session was brought to a close.

The afternoon's meeting began at 2 p. m. by the choir rendering very beautifully "Merrily Sing." Rev. W. W. Rhoades and his accomplished daughter, Miss Ida, played a lovely piece on their violins, accompanied on the organ by Miss Dale. We are informed that Mr. Rhoades was the constructor of both his own and his daughter's violin. He is also quite a composer of music, and has an excellent bass voice.

Hon. D. B. McWilliams was then introduced and held the audience in a good humor for nearly three quarters of an hour. He complimented the granges of this county for having such excellent grounds for their picnic, and he said it seemed as if some magician had waved his wand over this grange, for it seems only a little while since this picnic was being held in the woods near Centre Hall and would only be in session a day. But now you own your own grounds and widening "The Margin" and the future can be seen, and not through a glass darkly, but very distinctly. Mr. McWilliams, we should judge by his talk, is temperance from head to foot. His subject was "The Home of the Grange." It was very interesting and helpful to all. Emma Lewis then favored the audience with some sweet whistling, after which the Hon. J. F. Ailman was introduced. He said the greeting of friends is one of the greatest pleasures of life. This and like occasions affords a good opportunity to meet each other. Farmers should avail themselves of such opportunities and on account of the isolated nature of our occupation we should not only wait for the opportunities to come, but make them. This is one of the objects and by no means the least important object of the Grange.

I congratulate you fellow farmers that there is a little more money in our business this year than for some years past. We are not ready however, to admit that a year ago we were all wrong because silver and wheat have just now parted company. We never denied that supply and demand are factors in fixing price. We do deny that they are the only factors If next year or the next the usual conditions of supply and demand prevail and still silver and wheat remain apart I shall most cheerfully acknowledge that I was in error. My purpose is not at this time to talk politics, but to give the sign of caution against the very common tendency to jump at conclusions, or to give undue prominence to one cause ignori ngall oth-

NO HALT IN THE ADVANCE

Business Conditions Continue to Improve All Around.

THERE IS A GENERAL LOOKING UP

More Industries Have Been Started, and Naturally More Men are Now Employed—Farmers and Laborers Helped.

FAILURES FOR THE PAST WEEK

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, in its issue to-morrow will say:

There is no halting in the advance. Business grows better in all ways, for while its speculative end breaks conspicuous gamblers for a decline, a steady increase in production, in working force and in the power of the people to purchrse, is the feature which overshadows all others.

Reports of New York trade unions show an increase since one year ago of 34 per cent. in the number of men at work, and a similar increase among men in like position throughout the country would exceed 340,000, while every week adds many establishments to the active list. The coal miners' strike has disclosed such facts and brought to light such differences that work will probably be very soon resumed by a large share of the men.

The farmers are helped by higher prices for wheat, and while western receipts do not show that they have marketed a tenth of their crop, assurance of handsome profits to come prepares them to buy liberally hereafter. Because of this and the increase of hands at work, dealers throughout the country have started to replenish stocks, which is the great force at present operating manufactures and trade, though distribution by retail trade has greatly increased.

A gain of 12 per cent. during the month of the output of pig iron from 165.378 tons, Aug. 1, to 185,506, Sept. 1, with knowledge that half a dozen other furnaces are preparing to resume and that unsold stocks have been reduced 14,400 tons weekly in August, indicating a consumption of about 190,000 tons, more than explains the moderate advance of prices of finished products, averaging but 6 per cent. since the lowest point, Aug. 12.

Wheat has risen 5 cents the past week, not in a flurry, but in answer to the daily increasing foreign demand. Though reports of the crop, now almost wholly out of danger, indicate a yield never surpassed but once, foreign accounts still strengthen the belief that the deficiency abroad will be about 100,0000,000 bushels more than usual, and meanwhile reports indicate that less corn than was expected will be available for export. Its price has risen about ⅝ of a cent.

While wheat receipts at Chicago have been breaking records, receipts at all western ports are for the week a little below last year's, but Atlantic exports, 9,778,138 bushels, flour included, against 4,270,755 last year for two weeks, with 5,579,771 bushels corn against 3,570,704 last year, indicate a foreign demand apparently limited at present only by ship room.

Since the small corner in August, cotton has relapsed to 7½ cents, no rumors affecting prices very much. Northern mills are consuming very largely, with a continued demand for goods, which has advanced the prices of many. With enormous speculative sales, which appear to constitute most of the market at Boston, there is also more buying there and elsewhere by the woolen mills, which are enjoying an extraordinary demand for goods at prices averaging not 10 per cent. higher than were paid early in the year. The average advance for the week in securities has been $1.12 per shade for railroads and 79 cents for trusts.

Failures for the week have been 215 in the United States, against 315 last year.

Those Nebraska conventions must have been [illegible] for an issue when they had to fall back on silver, which has depreciated [illegible] cent. since last election and is still falling. But what could they do? They had to have something for an issue as against the Republicans, and they knew the free-trade chestnut would never do for another campaign.

DORMAN-YEARICK.

A Happy Young Couple Set Sail On the Sea of Matrimony.

Thursday evening at 7 o'clock a quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the home of Henry Wetzel on East Linn St.

The contracting parties were Mr. Louis Dorman, of Bellefonte, and Miss Sancta Yearick, of Jacksonville.

The ceremony was performed by Rev, Runkle, of Nittany. The bride is a pretty and accomplished young lady and will make a fitting helpmate to the man of her choice. She is a sister of Mrs. Henry Wetzel. Mr. Dorman is a steady and industrious young man, a machinist by trade and employed at the bicycle establishment of Louis Wetzel. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served which was highly enjoyed by all present.

Chattanooga May Be in Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—A question has been sprung here which may result in Chattanooga, which has long been known as one of the leading cities of Tennessee, becoming a Georgia town. Doubt has been thrown upon the accuracy of the survey of the boundary line between this state and Tennessee, and if the theory of eminent legal authorities here is confirmed it may be found that Chattanooga is on Georgia soil.

This view is shared by Col. W. A. Wimbish, special commissioner of the State for the Western and Atlantic Railroad, who has looked into the question in his official capacity, and to-day expressed his strong belief that a correct survey would bring the city of Chattanooga within the confines of this state. The publication of this fact has aroused much interest here, and it is not unlikely that it may result in the next legislature providing for a re-survey of the boundary.

One of Two Ways.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attruted to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention REPUBLICAN and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton N. Hurrah for "Dolly Spencer."

"Dolly Spencer is one of the fastest trotters in Pennsylvania and we are proud to say she belongs right here in Bellefonte, And her owner is Mr. Mart Garman. "Dolly has been winning right along this summer but she capped the climax this week, she entered the races at Reading, being driven by a man by the name of Chambers, on Thursday she came in first. Her time being 2:20½ and yesterday she did the same thing only in better time it was in 2:18¼, now can we not boast of fast horses.

We extend our congratulations to Mr. Garman as being the owner of this mare,

Make the Most of Yourself!

It is the duty of every man to make the most of himself. Whatever his capacities may be, he is sure to find some place where he can be useful to himself and to others. But he cannot reach his highest usefulness without good health and he cannot have good health without pure blood. The blood circulates to every organ and tissue and when it is pure, rich and healthy it carries health to the entire system, but if it is impure it scatters disease wherever it flows. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one true blood purifier. It cures salt rheum, scrofula, catarrh, dyspepsia and rheumatism because these diseases have their origin in the blood.

Newspapers Are Trying Luetgert.

Comments on the testimony given on the trial of a man on the charge of murder, showing its force or effect, are no part of decent and dignified journalism. To draw imaginary conclusions from the personal appearance of the man on trial, supplemented with more or less fanciful pictorial representations of the man's face as he appeared during the examination of the witnesses, does not come within the range of legitimate newspaper enterprise. It is the business of "yellow journalism."—Chicago Times-Herald.

MANY WERE KILLED.

Aftermath of the Strike in the Hard Coal Region.

THE DEPUTIES AND THE STRIKERS

The Two Bodies Meet and Many of the Latter are Dead.

HOW THE AFFAIR HAPPENED

HAZLETON, PA., Sept., 10.—The strike situation reached a terrible crisis on the outskirts of Lattimer this afternoon when a band of deputy sheriffs fired into an infuriated mob of miners. The men fell like so many sheep and the excitement since has been so intense that no accurate figures of the dead and wounded can be obtained. Reports run from fifteen or twenty killed and forty or more wounded. Many of these will die. One man who reached the scene to-night counted thirteen corpses. Four other dead lie in the mountains between Lattimer and Harleigh. Those who were not injured carried their dead and wounded friends into the woods and estimate is baffled.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 10.—Governor Hastings to-night received word from the Sheriff of Luzerne county that he had exhausted all his powers in trying to suppress the mob near Hazelton and now asks for military assistance. The sheriff fears that there will be much loss of life if they attempt to cope with the rioters tomorrow. Col. C. B. Dougherty, of Wilkesbarre, sent a telegram corroborating the sheriff's story and suggested that the First and Third brigades be summoned to the sheriff's relief.

The governor has summoned Adjutant General Stewart and General Gobin and they will be here sometime to-night. It is quite certain that the Third brigade will be called out before morning.

Governor Hastings to-night ordered out the Third brigade and instructed General Schall to hold the First brigade in readiness. The troops will mobilize at Hazelton and are expected to be on the scene before daybreak. Captain A. R. Paxton, U. S. A., attached to the National Guard, started for Hazelton to-night by direction of the Governor. Superintendent Creighton, of the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad, was called into conference at the executive mansion and has arranged for the speedy transporta- of the soldiers.

The governor received a copy of resolutions adopted at a mass meeting to-night at Hazelton urging upon the sheriff of Luzerne county to at once ask the executive for protection to life and property. The resolutions are signed by Alvin Markle and other prominent citizens of Hazelton. Irving A. Stearns, of Wilkesbarre, sent a telegram to the governor that it was absolutely necessary that troops be sent at once to the strike region to quell the lawlessness.

Still in Doubt.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 8.—The interstate miners' convention adjourned this evening until to morrow morning without having taken a vote on the question of accepting or rejecting the proposed settlement of the strike.

The prospects for the acceptance of the settlement are somewhat doubtful. The greater part of the afternoon session was secret, the delegates listening to speeches from National President Ratchford and State Presidents Farms, of Ohio; Knight, of Indiana; Carson, of Illinois, and Dolan, of Pittsburg. All of these officials, with the exception of Mr. Carson, argued in favor of the acceptance of the Pittsburg operators' propesition

She was admitted to the bar without a question, She is the first representative of her sex, of any color, to be admitted to the bar of Tennessee. She is the only colored woman in the South licensed to practice law, and it is said she is the only colored woman in the United States that is a member of the bar.

A Celebrated Case.

CHICAGO, September 9.—Both the morning and afternoon sessions of the court in the trial of Adolph T. Luetgert were consumed in the taking of testimony. Through chemical analysis the state must establish not only the possibility of a human body being dissolved by the action of caustic potash heated to the boiling point, but also the fact that the bits of bone, hair and flesh and the scrapings of pinkish brown material from the inside of the vat in the sausage factory are portions of the body of a human being. If they can demonstrate these two propositions beyond a reasonable doubt one of the most important points of their case will be accomplished. By circumstantial evidence they have endeavored to prove that Luetgert was anxious to rid himself of his wife and that he enticed her to the factory on the evening of May 1. By expert testimony they expect to prove that Mrs. Luetgert's remains are now represented by the bits of bones, flesh and hair.

Two expert witnesses have been called, Dr. Charles B. Gibson and Professor Mark Delafontaine. Dr. Gibson, whose direct examination was begun Wednesday, afforded further testimony for the state and was turned over to the defense for cross examination. Professor Delafontaine was examined by Assistant States Attorney McEwan, the direct examination occupying the remaining time of the morning session and the entire afternoon session.

The Alaskan Gold Fields.

Gen. Butler stated in 1868 that "for ten years the entire product of the whole country of Alaska had not exceeded $3,000,000." Such a remark could not be truthfully made now. At the same time it may be seriously doubted whether Alaska, even if gold should be found there in the same abundance as in the Klondyke region over the Canadian boundary, will ever be the seat of a numerous and intelligent population. Its coast is indented with bays and harbors, it has an area equal to the combined area of Great Britain, France and Germany; its seas, rivers and forests are the source of much wealth, and there seems to be no question that coal and iron exist in considerable quantities within its borders, but these advantages will not compensate for the general sterility of the soil or the extreme severity of the climate. Siberia has been regarded in the past as synonymous with bleakness and desolation, but predictions are already rife that it will soon develop into one of the great wheat producing sections of the globe. Nothing of the kind appears to be possible with Alaska. With the heavy rainfalls and the lack of heat which characterize that territory, neither cereals ripen nor vegetables thrive. Still it would be premature to say that Alaska will always remain in its present state. With quicker access to the necessaries and the appliances of civilization, such, as, perhaps, may be brought about by the establishment of railroad and ocean steamship lines, much might be done to make life tolerable, and even comfortable, in portions of that country. It is not improbable that some such result will be the outcome of the present rush to the Klondyke gold fields.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Three Records Broken.

WAMERBURY, Conn., September 9.—Three records were broken at the national circuit race meet held here. The world's tandem record of 1:56 3-5 made by Casey and Eckberg at Providence, recently, was lowered one second by E. C. Hausman and George H. Collett, of New Haven, The mile state record of 1:47 3-5 made by Willie Windle paced by a quint at Charter Oak park, Hartford, October 3, 1895, had three-fifths of a second clipped off it by Floyd MacFarland, of San Jose. A new state record in the two mile professional was likewise made by C. B. Newton, of Stafford Springs, to-day, who made it in 1:23 2-5, lowering the previous record. 2¾. Eddie Bald was second and Tom Cooper third.

Tom Butler (thirty-five yards) captured the mile handicap in 2:06 1-6, and C. P. Newton the mile open in 2:08.

Is This Charles Brown?

A Woman Saved.

A CASE OF INTEREST TO EVERY WOMAN.

Mrs. Henry Younghans Tells a Story of Suffering and How She Was Cured.

From the Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Henry Younghans, of Detroit, Mich., who resides at 1003 Grand River Avenue, said: "Ever since our last little one came I was an invalid. For years I have had the most painful experience and would have to lie down most of the time. After the last baby was born I was unable to attend to my housework. I could hardly stand up and had dizzy spells. I wanted to sleep all the time and was treated by several of the best physicians. I would have the most fearful cramp, for which hot applications were used. I used these hot applications until I blistered myself severely.

"Before our child was born I had been a strong, healthy woman and was scarcely ever sick. After he was born I grew weak and thin, and received scarcely any help from the medicine left by the doctors. They said I was not properly cared for and that the baby was too strong for me. My back seemed to be breaking and I was scarcely ever without a severe headache. Could not tell you how many different prescriptions I have taken, but every doctor had a different plan of treating my case. I wore supports and laid for weeks with my limbs elevated, but without avail. One day my husband suggested that I try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as he had read several articles in the paper about women who had been helped by them. I was discouraged and thought I must always be an invalid, but said I would try them after I had taken the bottle of medicine I was then using.

"A few days after he brought me in a box and asked me to give them a trial. I started taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People that day and put the other medicine away, thinking it would please him if I tried the pills. Before I had taken one box I felt better. My husband noticed the improvement and bought two more boxes. I kept on using them until I had taken four boxes, and I was entirely cured.

"I keep them in the house now and use them occasionally, as they are a great help to all women. You would not have known me two years ago. What I am to-day is owing to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

(Signed) MRS. H. YOUNGHANS.

Mrs. H. Younghans, being duly sworn, states that she has read the above and that it is true in every particular.

DANIEL MYERS,

OF PENNSYLVANIA.

A Living Object Lesson for Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

HEART DISEASE is curable. "For over forty years," writes Daniel Myers of Two Taverns, Pa., on Aug. 10, 1896, "I suffered with heart disease. First a slight palpitation, gradually growing worse. Then shortness of breath, sleeplessness, smothering sensations and much pain in the region of the heart alarmed me and I consulted a physician. Receiving no benefit I tried others and a number of remedies, spending a large amount of money, but finally became so bad that it was unsafe for me to leave home. I commenced using Dr. Miles' Heart Cure two years ago. For eighteen months I have been well. Although 72 years of age I can go where I wish and I sleep all night and wake up as cheerful as a babe and completely rested."

Dr. Miles Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nerves sent free to all applicants.

AS TO YELLOW FEVER.

There is Only One Feature Now to Be Subject of Worriment.

TROUBLE ABOUT COAST TOWNS

Only This is to Be Feared and the Physicians are Making All Necessary Arrangements to Avoid the Same.

THE OPINION OF DR. GUITERAS

NEW ORLEANS, September 9.—Up to nightfall there had been no change in the feyer situation. Two or three suspicious cases had been reported to the board of health—a material falling off from yesterday, when there were twenty-seven. These were investigated with the usual result. This evening Dr. Oliphant and his corps realize that they have but one battle to fight—that of preventing any more importation from the coast towns, Biloxi and Ocean Springs. Dr, Guiteras and the other government experts have declared that yellow fever existed at Ocean Springs and Biloxi. While the decision of Dr. Guiteras has set at rest all doubt here that yellow fever exists at Ocean Springs, the people there find consolation in the fact that peculiar conditions surround the death of Sheray Seymour, who was officially declared to-day to have succumbed to yellow fever. He was in bad health before he was stricken, and unnecessarily exposed himself. He was first treated with primitive methods by his family, no physician was called for days and when showed temporary recovery he over ate himself and died. Dr. Guiteras, Dr, Murray and all who participated in the autopsy declared, however, that there was no question that the man had died of yellow fever. One of Dr. Guiteras's doubtful patients, a child, died to-day. In Dr. Guiteras's opinion the prevailing fever is not yellow fever but there are isolated cases of the dread disease, This evening Dr. Guiteras pronounced the case of Ernest Beanges, now sick, as yellow fever.

Late this evening the three cases heretofore reported as existing at Biloxi were confirmed as yellow fever by Drs. Murray and Gant, after a careful investigation. They are thoroughly isolated. The sensational report given out last night that there were seven additional cases yesterday in Biloxi is to-day pronounced to be without foundation, A late dispatch brings the information that a lad named Theodore Sanchez in Biloxi shows a decided case of yellow fever as diagnosed by Dr, Haralson. Dr. Salamanson and Dr. Kelly to-day examined nine cases of fever in Moss Point. They declare that there is no case of yellow fever in that town nor even a suspicious case.

Dr. Seeley who has been nursing patients at Ocean Springs has been stricken with yellow fever at his home at Perkinton, Miss. The case has been officially confirmed and Dr. H. S. Gulley, of Meridian, state health officer, has gone to Perkinton to take charge of the town and establish quarantine.

Reception by M'Kinley.

SOMERSET, Pa., Sept.8.—President McKinley and his brother, Abner, spent the morning in making social calls. The weather is oppressively warm. This afternoon the president attended a game of ball between the Rockwood and Somerset teams.

The street were thronged to-night with people, 1,000 of whom are visitors from different parts of the county, the occasion being the public reception by President McKinley held at the Ensley residence, where the president and Mrs. McKinley are visitors. The reception began at 7:30, and for two hours a line of visitors passed through the house, each grasping the president's hand. The president this morning expressed his determination to remain here until Monday, and this afternoon declined an invitation from a delegation of prominent citizens of Johnstown, headed by the mayor, who invited him to visit the Flood city before going home.

—Prof. Coles, in Storms and Signs for September, says some strange phenomena will occur in the heavens this month and several awe inspiring sunrise and sunset scenes. A pretty sight will be that of Venus and the moon within two degrees of each other in the early morning on Thursday, the 22d inst. There will be several fine meteoric displays and the falling of one large meteor to the earth. Strange phenomenal electrical displays, caused by the magnetic current, will cause consternation in some localities. On the 22d the sun enters sign Libra and autumn then begins.

STOLE TWO COWS,

And Sold Them to a Man in Tyrone on Tuesday.

A. E. Jones, alias Edward Woodring, alias Allison Woodring, who was arrested in this place Wednesday, charged with stealing a "bike," turns out to be the same man who stole two cows from Jacob Woodring, of Port Matilda, a relative. It seems that last Tuesday Allison Woodring drove two valuable Jersey cows from the premises of the above named party, and sold them to Augustus McClain, of Bald Eagle. Mr. McClain gave his check for $30.00 in payment for the cattle, and Woodring went to Tyrone and purchased a cheap suit of clothing at the store of Charles Conrad. He tendered the check in payment for the goods. The check was taken to the Blair County bank, upon which it was drawn, and honored. Woodring, receiving the change and clothing, then proceeded to get out of town. He next turned up at Philipsburg, where he stole a bicycle from a dealer named H. J. Goss and struck for this place, where he was arrested Wednesday while attempting to sell the wheel, as already related in our last issue.

In the meantime the rightful owner of the cattle appeared at the McClain place and claimed his cows. Mr. McClain at once began to investigate the matter, and upon finding that his check had been cashed proceeded to send a description of the fellow who had victimized him to the officers of the surrounding towns.

The man arrested for stealing the bicycle turns out to be the man wanted by McClain. Mr. McClain arrived in Bellefonte and identified Woodring, and Woodring admitted his guilt, but has implicated two others in the theft of the cows, namely: Harry Daughenbaugh, of Port Matilda, and John Rivers, constable of Rush township. The latter two were arrested this morning, brought to this place and lodged in jail.

H. J. Goss, of Philipsburg, arrived in town last evening and identified the man and the wheel.

Barril's Sentence Forty Years.

BARCELONA, Sept. 6.—The prosecutor at the court-martial yesterday of Barail, the anarchist who attempted to assassinate Chief of Police Portas and Assistant Chief Toixidor on Friday evening last as they were leaving the circus, asked that a sentence of forty years' imprisonment be imposed upon the prisoner. The defense urged that ten years' imprisonment would be adequate punishment for the accused Barril admitted before the court-martial that he came to Spain with the in tention of assassinating Chief of Police Portas, on account of the measures taken by the latter against anarchists.

The request of the prosecutor was granted, and the court sentenced Barril to forty years' imprisonment. Much surprise was manifested when the sentence was announced, as it was expected that the prisoner would be condemned to suffer the death penalty for his crime.

The Rarest Book.

"The rarest sort of book," says Mr. Bagehot slyly, "is a book to read," and "the knack in style is to write like a human being." It is painfully evident, upon experiment, that not many of the books which come teeming from our presses every year are meant to be read. They are meant, it may be, to be pondered; it is hoped, no doubt, they may instruct, or inform, or startle or arouse, or reform, or provoke, or amuse us; but we read, if we have the true reader's zest and palate, not to grow more knowing, but to be less pent up and bound within a little circle—as those who take their pleasure, and not as those who laboriously seek instruction—as a means of seeing and enjoying the world of men and affairs. We wish companionship and renewal of spirit, enrichment of thought, and the full adventure of the mind; and we desire fair company and a large world in which to find them.

A Throng Waiting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 6.—The return of President McKinley toward the last of the week ought to result in the early appointment of a number of consuls. It was the intention of the President when he left to make a number of these appointments soon after his return. He may have no other pressing business.

Many of the candidates for consular and other positions have remained in the city since the President left, and will be on hand when he returns to visit him regularly each day to ascertain their chances. It will be several months before the President will have disposed of the bulk of the patronage yet at his command. There are many collectorships and other federal positions to be filled in the various states. Some of them will have to be handled gingerly. Maryland offices are points in example. Another knotty problem is the collectorship of the port of New Orleans. In addition there are fights over postoffices all over the country, especially in the South, which will be troublesome. So there will be no end to the political bickerings which the President will have to listen to when he again enters the White House.

Senator Penrose and Representatives Wm. A. Stone and Robbins are expected here as soon as the President returns to ascertain the cause of the delay in appointing ex-Representative D. B. Heiner, of Kittanning, as district attorney. So far, nothing can be ascertained here relative to the action of the President at the last moment in withholding his signature to Mr. Heiner's commission.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger is of the opinion that the delay is but a formality; that the President withheld his signature to give the protesting parties a chance to be heard; that their protests or charges will amount to nothing at the hearing, and that Mr. Heiner will then be appointed.

Texas Quarantines.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 6.—State Health Officer Swearingen this morning issued ironclad quarantine against Ocean Springs Miss., and all other points now affected or likely to be affected by yellow fever. It will go into immediate affect and last indefinitely. Reports from the gulf coast are to the effect that the inhabitants are badly frightened at the prospects of yellow fever entering the state and some of them are talking of reorganizing their shot gun quarantine force which patrolled the gulf coast some 12 years ago to keep out all persons and thereby prevent the disease from entering the state.

GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 6.—City Health Officer Fisher has declared quarantine by water against New Orleans, and he has sent the following to State Health Officer Swearingen at Austin:

"New Orleans has case of yellow fever. Ocean Springs two cases. Please notify that quarantine precautions have been taken to keep us thoroughly informed, so that we can protect our municipality."

Back From the Grave
We cannot come, but ws can often stay our progress thither. Disease, like else, must have a beginning. All maladies tend to shorten life, and render it a species of martyrdom while they last. Malaria, kidney complaint, chronic indigestion, rheumatism—all have small beginnings, and may be stayed at the outset with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This excellent tonic and alterative is adapted alike to the prevention of disorders of the system and to their removal, and its early use cannot be too strongly advocated. To renew appetite and insure tranquil rest, there is no surer and pleasanter means than the Bitters. The effects of overwork and exhaustion, mental or physical, are counteracted by it, and the busy merchant, the tired clerk or operative, and the brain weary student, author or newspaper man, derive from it present relief and future energy.

HASTINGS AT HARRISBURG.

He Returned Yesterday from His Summer Home at Bellefonte.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 7.—Governor Hastings returned to Harrisburg to-day from his summer home at Bellefonte. Soon after the governor's arrival on Capitol hill Secretary of the Commonwealth Frank Reeder went into the executive chamber, and the two were closeted together for nearly an hour. At the close of the interview the governor declined to see the nepspaper men, on the plea that he had nothing to say about the story of the resignation of General Reeder.

General Reeder was seen subsequently and asked if he had anything to say about the story. He declined to discuss the matter and referred the reporters to the governor. Attorney General McCormick was in conference with Deputy Attorney General John P. Elkins this afternoon which leads to the belief that there is some ground for the story that Mr, Elkin is also to retire.

A rumor has been current that General Reeder and Mr. Elkin, who are adherents of Senator Quay, will resign because of the widening of the political breach that has existed for some time between the Quay faction and the friends of Governor Hastings. Attorney General McCormick is looked upon as the leader of the anti-Quay or administration forces. Mr. Elkin, in addition to holding the position of deputy attorney general, is chairman of the Republican state committee.

Good for the Cow.

The other day a bicycle rider found a rare chance for sport. He was near the suburbs of Worcester. A farm wagon appeared, with a cow trailing behind patiently submitting herself to be led by a rope from the front seat, The bicycle idiot rode up to the cow and began a series of tactics to annoy her. He punched her in the ribs, yelled in her ears and dodged around her legs. Occasionally he fell back and, taking hold of her tail, attempted to make her tow his bicycle. The cow objected and kicked viciously. This only amused the rider, and he directed his attention to an annoyance that would induce her to continue kicking, meanwhile keeping out of reach of her heels, Finally the animal stopped kicking and appeared to become indifferent. Some spectators on a passing street car observed, however, that she had turned, her head so as to keep an eye on her persecutor. It took her a few minutes to get the range, and meanwhile the bicycle idiot grew bold and reckless, encouraged by her quiet behavior. Suddenly the animal darted forward, so as to get a slack in the rope, stopped short and let both hee's fly. Her aim was sure this time, and the bicycle went out from under the idiot's feet. The street car spectators raised a shout, the motorman rang a chime with his gong and the farmer and his boy whipped up the horse. The impassive cow only wiggled her ears and gave an imaginary fly on her side a triumphant slap with her tail. The wheel was so twisted that the rider had to walk home as helplessly as the cow was being led. He will not sue the owner of the cow.—Worcester Evening Gazette

Capitol Commission Meets.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 7.—The capitol commission held a short session this afternoon in the Executive chamber to consider the selection of designs for a new state house. A communication was read from the Philadelphia Chapter of the American Institutes of Architects condemning the attempts of certain architects to overthrow the program of competition of architects.

John H. Weiss, of Harrisburg, counsel for Furness, Evans & Co., of Philadelphia, asks that a board of experts be ordered by the commission to make a more careful examination of the firm's plans.

It was finally decided to adjourn until Thursday afternoon and, in the meanwhile, the experts will go over the plans of the Philadelphia firm and Harding & Gooch, of New York, and prepare a report to the commission as to the material used in making the drawing and other technicalities. The prospects are that at its next meeting the commission will select one of the plans recommended by the experts or reject the experts' report and agree upon an architect who will make a plan to meet the wishes of the commissioners.

TWELFTH ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Of the West Susquehanna Classes Held in the Reformed Church, this City.

The twelfth annual convention of the Missionary Society of West Susquehanna Classes of the Reformed church met in the Reformed church in this city Tuesday evening, September 7th and closed Wednesday Sept. 8th. There was a large attendance at every session and it was interesting and beneficial to all who were present.

The opening session Tuesday evening was called to order at 7:30. Miss Sabra Campbell in a very pleasing manner delivered a very neat and appropriate address of welcome, which was responded to by the president of the society, Rev. Brown.

Opening services were conducted by Revs. Brown and Whitmore, after which an address was made by Rev. M. L. Firor, on the subject, "A Hundred and Fifty years of Missionary Work in the Reformed Church." Then followed the organization of the convention.

Wednesday morning's session opened at 9 o'clock with devotional exercises, followed by the hearing of reports from the officers and delegates. They proved very interesting. The following subjects were then discussed. "How can an Interest in the Michael Schlatter Memorial Fund be Awakened in Our Charges" by Rev. S. L. Whitmore. "How May a Missionary Spirit be Instilled in the Hearts and Minds of the Children in the Family" by Miss J. K. Moyer. "Should the Apportionments for Missions upon a charge be Apportioned upon the Members." by Rev. Tilghman Derr.

Wednesday afternoon's session was called to order at 1:30 o'clock, with devotional services. The following subjects were discussed at the afternoon session. "The Y. P. S. C. E. and Missions" by S. L. Whitmore. "How Can the Reformed Church Tidings be Introduced Into Every Reformed Family? "by Miss Lillie Shoemaker.

"Should we have a Missionary Department in the Curriculum of our Theological Seminaries?" by Rev. J. L. Barnhart.

All these addresses were interesting and instructive, well delivered, and showed that they had been carefully prepared. After each address there was a general discussion of the subject, and it is believed that the talks will be productive of much good in church work.

At the close of these addresses a business meeting was held, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President and Treasurer, Rev. W. A. Haas; Vice President, Jared Harper; Secretary, Miss Lizzie Moyer.

The convention closed Wednesday evening with addresses on "Our Foreign Mission Work," by Rev. S. L. Whitmore and others.

The Musician and His Hair.

The startling news which reaches us by cable, that Paderewski has had his hair cut short and has taken to the bicycle, will be variously received by various classes of his admirers. It may be accepted as an indication that the Polish pianist has for the time being retired from concertizing, and while developing his physical condition intends also to develop a healthier character in his art. There is a bit of the charletan in very many of the greatest artists. Paderewski's long hair was partly a personal pose. But it was also, and in an unusual degree, a part of his capital in the show business. The young women who flocked to hear him could not by any possibility have appreciated the exquisite distinction of his playing, its unique poetic quality, its refined and spiritual, if sometimes morbid, intellectually. The real excellence of Paderewski's art is not of a kind that appeals to the crowd. But his yellow mane was a feature that all could recognize. It was so artistic, so interesting so perfectly lovely, that the young women knew he must be a great artist, and they poured their dollars into his lap.—Philadelphia Times.

Ex-Mail Carriers Made Happy.

John Wagner, Amos Mullen, T. R. Benner and James Bayard, Bellefonte mail carriers under the Harrison administration, have received notice that their claims against the government for pay for overtime work have been awarded as follows: James J. Bayard, $86.16; Thomas R. Benner, $247.00; Amos Mullen, $139.91; John A. Wagner, $247.10. John Bair's claim is in a different agency from the above, hence it is not announced as yet.

The claims were based on the fact that all of the men worked more than 8 hours a day during the time when the law fixing 8 hours as a day's work for government employees was operative.

The agency will claim 20 per cent. for collecting.

HOME SECRETS.

Bellefonte Mothers Keep Them; but With a Little Light, There Need be None.

How carefully mothers guard the secrets of their boys and girls. At night as she carefully tucks the bed clothes around them she chides and warns that mother will be angry if they repeat last night's offence, softly saying to herself its only a habit, but I must break them of it. This is a mother's mistake. And children can not help it, and sweet, clean, dry beds can be the resting place of every child when it is understood that the cause is not a habit, but a weakness, that can be cured. Active life of the little ones tends to weaken the kidneys, and weak kidneys mean inability to retain urine. This is a condition not a habit, and should have the same attention you would give to the symptoms of any disease. One of Doan's Kidney Pills taken twice a day and at bedtime will strengthen the kidneys of a child, and in a short time there will be no cause to scold, for the so called habit will disappear promptly.

Here's a greatful mother that adds her indorsement to our words.

Mrs. W. E. Bryerton 101 Fourth street says; "My daughter 8 years old had at the age of four, a servere attack of meat sles. When she recovered, she was left with weak kidneys and the trouble developed into a uirnary difficulty. We doctored for it, but made little or no headway. Last fall, she with other children, had the typhoid fever. It aggravated it and she complained of her back aching and continually feeling tired. She had little or no control, of the urine while sleeping in spite of all that the doctors and I could do. It struck me if Doan's Kidney Pills were good for this distressing complaint in adult, they should be for children, and I procured a box. They improved her condition from the start and finally did more for her than all I ever did as well as the doctor. The trouble is gone. Before using the old Quaker remedy, she could not go to Sabbath School. Now I am thankful to say she can go anywhere.

A HAPPY WEDDING.

Edward M. Nolen, of Pittsburg, Weds Clara C. Anderson, of This City.

An exceedingly delightful wedding took place Tuesday evening at the beautiful Reformed church, corner of Spring and Linn streets. The contracting parties were Mr. Edward M. Nolen, of Pittsburg, and Miss Clara C. Anderson, the pretty and accomplished daughter of John Anderson, of this city. The interior of the church presented an animated appearance as the time for the ceremony approached. It was well filled with the friends of the bride and groom, and the chancel was one mass of beautiful flowers, the product of the finest skill of the florist's art. These surroundings gave animation to the solemn event about to take place.

Promptly at 6 o'clock the wedding party entered the church to the air of the beautiful Mendelshon wedding march, as played by Mr. Joseph Katz. They were in the following order: first the best man, then the ushers, bridesmaids, maid of honor and bride and groom. The words which united this happy couple for life were said by Rev. R. Leighton Gearhart. Mr. Norman Nolen, a brother of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Maurice Woods, of Uniontown, Harry H. Martin, of Lock Haven, D, James Brown, of Pittsburg, and Clarence R. Bonnett, of Pittsburg. The bridesmaids were Misses Ottelia K. Porter, of Pittsburg, Wanda and Charlotte Von Morozouvicy, of Pittsburg, all dressed in white organdy over pink silk and wearing large Ganesboro hats trimmed with pink roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Nellie Anderson, a sister of the bride, wearing pink chiffon over white satin. The groom looked manly and handsome dressed in conventional black and wearing white kid gloves.

The bride looked very pretty dressed in a magnificent costume of duchess satin with pearl trimmings, trail and large white veil.

At the close of the ceremony the wedding party were driven to the home of the bride's father where a reception was held and a sumptuous wedding supper served. Mr. and Mrs. Nolen, the happy couple, then took the 8:53 train for an extended wedding tour to eastern cities, after which they will locate in Wilkinsburg, Pa. a suburb of Pittsburg, where Mr Nolen holds a responsible position as stenographer and typewriter, in the office of the Pittsburg Oil and Supply company.

Among the visitors present were: Mrs. M. C. Nolen, of Pittsburg, Mrs. C. McLaughlin, of Altoona, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Porter and Norman Nolen, of Pittsburg, and Milton Porter, of Lagerstown.

MEMORIAL SERVICES IN THE EVENING.

The last meeting of this grand reunion was held in the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening, when they called the roll of those beloved classmates who have passed to that land whence no man returns. It was a solemn hour to those present, as it called back to memory those whom they loved. But then we must not look on the sad side of this matter, but rather think of the joys and pleasures that were experienced when they were with us and how they would enjoy themselves were they also with us to-day.

This Presbyterian church now stands on the ground where the old academy stood, so that is the reason the services were held in this church. It is large and commodious and it was crowded to the door with friends anxious to hear their loved ones spoken of. The altar was decorated with beautiful flowers and in the background were large branches of weeping willow, which certainly presented a very pretty sight.

The meeting was called promptly at 7:30 by Mrs. Sophia Hall. The choir sang very beautifully "The God of Israel," after which Rev G W Fortney, of Turbotsville, made a very earnest prayer. In it he made mention of his departed classmates and friends. Before the roll was called again a few letters were read that had been received during the afternoon. They were from Mrs Anna Jack Reynolds, James Johnston of New Germantown, Mrs Mary Grove Grader, Mrs Emma Kreamer Bricker, James R Brisbin and W W Waring of Tyrone.

All of these letters were filled with kind and happy greetings to their old schoolmates, and they brought back to memory many a good time they had together in the old academy.

Mrs Sophia Hall has kindly consented to write us a short biography of most of the old professors and students who have passed away, so we will call the roll as it was called there. As the names were called they were responded to by friends, who spoke very touchingly of the good traits that their loved ones possessed. During the entire service some had their faces bathed in tears. The first one to be called was Rev Dr McKinney, followed by Col Robert MacFarlane, William MacFarlane, William E Hunter, Daniel Riley, Mrs Ada Keller Hutchinson, Mrs Ellen Keller Shaw, Dr Calvin P W Fisher, John Fisher. Col Daniel S Keller, Capt Christian Dale, Rev James Austin, Mrs Mitchell, Gen James Brisbin, Eliza J Burrows, Aggie Loche, William Van Dyke, Rev Henry Keller, Capt John Boal, B Frank Ingrich, John Riley, and the roll ended.

As we stated before, many beautiful words were spoken in behalf of their fellow students, and in our next issue a short sketch of their lives will be given by one of the students of the old academy. This meeting will long be remembered, and every year from this time on a reunion will be held by the students of this academy. The evening services were brought to a close by the choir singing a beautiful hymn, and the pronouncing of the benediction.

THE DIFFERENT COMMITTEES.

These are the persons who worked hard to make the reunion a success:

Invitation Committee—Rev G W Leisher, A A Dale, Esq, Dr Wm A Jacobs, Col James Stuart, D M Myers.

Reception Committee—Madames Sophia Hall, Emma Stuart, E A Fisher Misses M J Lytle, S J Keller, P A Stuart.

JOTTINGS FROM THE REUNION.

—George Koch is a gentleman who lives on a farm, but when it comes to telling funny stories he is not to be left out.

—The choir which rendered such excellent music at this reunion was under the instruction of Prof Meyers, of Boalsburg.

—The Reporter of this yaper was very elegantly entertained by Mrs Emma A Fisher, wife of the late Dr Fisher. She lives in a beautiful brick house in the centre of the town. It was in this house the first school was held in Boalsburg.

—Mrs Sophia Hall, a former student of the Boalsburg academy, but now a resident of Wilmington, Del. was present at this reunion. She is a lady of stately carriage and possesses a lovely disposition. She has been in Boalsburg for the last three weeks; working hard to make this reunion a success. She was elected secretary of this grand gathering, and performed her duties in the very best manner. When she called the long roll of the old students, you could hear every word she would say, for she spoke very distinctly. Mrs. Hall is the wife of Rev. Dr. Hall, of Wilmington, Del., and fortune has smiled upon them, and she is one of the happiest students of the old Boalsburg academy. We owe her many thanks for her kindness in assisting us to gather the many good points we have.

—Mr. Frank MacFarland, a young man growing up in the confidence of the people of Boalsburg, needs special mentioning, Frank is a young man about twenty five years old, he was elected president of the allumni association and worked hard to make this reunion a success, and so, his efforts were crowned with that word.

—We would like to make persona, mention of all those who were so, earnest and zealous in their efforts in working up this reunion,

—In our next weeks addition Mrs. Hall has very kindly consented to write us a short sketch of the lives of the departed professors, and no doubt it will be very interesting to all the old students.

—Any person wishing a copy of this paper can, secure it by writing to the REPUBLICAN office, Bellefonte, Pa.

—Dont forget that Sophia Hall, will write reminescence of the Professors, who have long since passed away.

The Howard and Mackeyville boys crossed bats at Hecla Park last Saturday morning and played a tie game, resulting in the score of 9 to 9. The Howard boys went to Hecla with the expectation of playing the Mackeyville team; but were confronted by a greatly stuffed team. Pletcher pitched an excellent game and Courrier caught his game equally as well. Howard went to bat in the sixth inning with the score 9 to 6 in favor of Mackeyville, With two outs and three on bases, Thomas made a beautiful hit, sending the three runners across home plate and reaching third base himself. This tied the score; but after the three runs had been scored, the umpire called it a foul the umpire though greatly mistaken sent the three runners back and Thomas retired the side after this Shaffer pitched for Mackeyville; but his curves were slaughtered one after another, our boys scoring three runs the first inning he pitched. Had the umpire done the Howard team justice, the score woule have been 9 to 12 in favor of Howard, which it really was. The score:
